Words Well Put Graham Sanders, 2020-10-26 Many poems in the Chinese tradition come to us embedded in narratives purporting to tell the circumstances of their composition and performance Poetic competence is demonstrated in these narratives through a person's ability to influence the attitudes and behavior of others with poetic discourse Such competence can be apprehended only in the context of a narrative which sets forth a representation of the conditions of a poem's production performance and reception These narratives are not so much faithful historical records as ideal accounts of the operation of poetry Such stories both fulfill and deny wishes for poetry and for the self it is these wishes that merit our careful attention As traced in Words Well Put the vision of poetic competence evolved for over a millennium from calculated performances of inherited words to sincere passionate outbursts to displays of verbal wit combining calculation with the appearance of spontaneity By the seventh century calculation passion and wit had converged to produce a multivalent concept of competence as a repertoire of competencies to use as the occasion demanded This book tells the story of the development of poetic competence to uncover the complexity of the concept and to identify the sources and exemplars of that complexity
