Reynolds,Richard T. Curtin,2009-06-13 This research program began in 1993 The idea of developing representative samples of those active in the business creation process now called nascent entrepreneurs developed from the success of using regional characteristics to 1 predict variations in new firm birth rates in six countries The initial purpose was to determine those external factors that encouraged individuals to initiate the business creation process and become as they are now called nascent entrepreneurs The research procedures mainly the critical aspects of the scre ing procedures were developed with the Survey Research Laboratory at the University of Wisconsin in Madison to complete the Wisconsin Entrepreneurial 2 Climate Study Support for an initial test with a national sample was provided by the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan Richard Curtin became involved with the incorporation of the screening module as part 3 of the Survey of Consumers in October and November in 1993 The success of these efforts in providing a detailed description of the ent preneurial process based on representative samples led to substantial interest among entrepreneurial scholars A founding team of Nancy Carter William Gartner and Paul Reynolds was able to organize the Entrepreneurial Research Consortium ERC a collaborative network of 34 research units that shared the financial cost and sweat equity required to implement the first national project 4 PSED I

The End of Words Richard Lischer,2008-01-03 After the horrors and violence of the twentieth century words can seem futile In this reflection on the place of preaching today Richard Lischer recognizes that our mass communication culture is exhausted by words Facing up to language's disappointments and dead ends he opens a path to its true end With chapters on vocation interpretation narration and reconciliation The End of Words shows how faithful reading of Scripture rather than flashy performance paves the way for effective preaching Lischer challenges conventional storytelling with a deeper and more biblical view of narrative preaching The ultimate purpose of preaching he argues is to speak God's peace the message of reconciliation While Lischer's End of Words will surely be invaluable to pastors and preachers his honest readable style will appeal to anyone concerned with speaking Christianly
