

An Unforgettable Experience

2 pages | 382 words

Kolkata is a very busy town. Particularly at the bus- stop, a large number of persons roam. The place is too crowded. Thousands of people travel by every day. One has to wait for a bus here for hours toggled. Even if a bus arrives in time, it is difficult to board it. There is a lot of pushing and jostling. One day I had to travel by a bus from Kolkata to Barrackpore. I reached the bus stop at about 5. 30 A. M. Many passengers were waiting for bus. There was no queue. After sometime my bus arrived. It stopped at a distance of about twenty yards from the stop proper. As soon as the bus stopped, the waiting passengers made a mad rush. Somehow, I pushed my way through the crowd and succeeded in boarding the bus. In the meantime the conductor whistled and the bus started. The bus was packed to capacity. There was hardly any room to stand. Two or three well dressed young men were hanging on the foot board. Inside the bus, I felt suffocated. I could not move even. I found my balance in unstable state. To make the thing worse, the driver applied the brake every now and then and the standing passengers were thrown of their feet. The conductor was taking delight in the plight of the passengers. At the way-side stops, the driver seldom stopped the bus at the appointed places. He would knowingly stop a few yards away from the stop proper. Poor men, women and children who stood waiting sit the stop, had at run a good distance to catch the bus. But very often the conductor had signaled the bus to move before anyone could Board it. At some stops hot words were exchanged between the conductor and passengers. At last the bus reached Barrackpore. As soon as it stopped the crowd of waiting passengers blocked the door. It was after a lot of pushing that I could get down the bus. My dresses were spoiled. The dresses of other passengers were spoiled too. It was a difficult journey by bus. The experience is still afresh in my memory. When I go to any place by bus, that sad experience in past come to my mind and begin to trouble.

Unforgettable Experience Paper:

People and Computers XVI - Memorable Yet Invisible Kristine Faulkner, Janet Finlay, Francoise Detienne, 2012-12-06
For the last 20 years the dominant form of user interface has been the Graphical User Interface GUI with direct manipulation. As software gets more complicated and more and more inexperienced users come into contact with computers enticed by the World Wide Web and smaller mobile devices new interface metaphors are required. The increasing complexity of software has introduced more options to the user. This seemingly increased control actually decreases control as the number of options and features available to them overwhelms the users and information overload can occur. Lachman 1997. Conversational anthropomorphic interfaces provide a possible alternative to the direct manipulation metaphor. The aim of this paper is to investigate users' reactions and assumptions when interacting with anthropomorphic agents. Here we consider how the level of anthropomorphism exhibited by the character and the level of interaction affects these assumptions. We compared characters of different levels of anthropomorphic abstraction from a very abstract character to a realistic yet not human character. As more software is released for general use with anthropomorphic interfaces there seems to be no consensus of what the characters should look like and what look is more suited for different applications. Some software and research opts for realistic looking characters for example Haptik Inc. see <http://www.haptik.com> others opt for cartoon characters. Microsoft 1999. Others opt for floating heads. Dohi Takama Koda 1996. Koda Koda Maes 1996b. Unforgettable Moments in Life Chaitanya Srivastava, Unforgettable moments of childhood are not just about specific activities but also about the feelings they evoke. The feeling of freedom, innocence and pure joy that only childhood can bring. These moments shape us and create lasting memories that we carry with us throughout our lives, reminding us of simpler times and the beauty of being a child. Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States. Central Intelligence Agency, 1963. Advances in Hospitality and Leisure Joseph S. Chen, 2017-09-07. Advances in Hospitality and Leisure delivers refreshing insights from a host of scientific studies in the domains of hospitality, leisure and tourism, providing a platform to galvanize thoughts on contemporary issues and merging trends essential to theory advancement as well as professional practices from a global perspective. Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States United States. President, 1990. Memorable Moments Tharani R, Memories are treasures of our hearts. They are captured moments in our brain like photos in albums. They are indelible and unforgettable. Some memories give a smile, flower to our heart. But some memories give intolerable pain. When we close our eyes they come as waves in front of us.
