Architecture, State Modernism and Cultural Nationalism in the Apartheid Capital Hilton Judin, 2021-04-08 This book is the first comprehensive investigation of the architecture of the apartheid state in the period of rapid economic growth and political repression from 1957 to 1966 when buildings took on an ideological role that was never remote from the increasingly dominant administrative legislative and policing mechanisms of the regime It considers how this process reflected the usurpation of a regional modernism and looks to contribute to wider discourses on international postwar modernism in architecture Buildings in Pretoria that came to embody ambitions of the apartheid state for industrialisation and progress serve as case studies These were widely acclaimed projects that embodied for apartheid officials the pursuit of modernisation but carried latent apprehensions of Afrikaners about their growing economic prospects and cultural estrangement in Africa It is a less known and marginal story due to the dearth of material and documents buried in archives and untranslated documents Many of the documents drawings and photographs in the book are unpublished and include classified material and photographs from the National Nuclear Research Centre negatives of 1960s from Pretoria News and documents and pamphlets from Afrikaner Broederbond archives State architecture became the most iconic public manifestation of an evolving expression of white cultural identity as a new generation of architects in Pretoria took up the challenge of finding form to their prospects and beliefs It was an opportunistic faith in Afrikaners who urgently needed to entrench their vulnerable and contested position on the African continent The shift from provincial town to apartheid capital was swift and relentless Little was left to stand in the way of the ambitions and aim of the state as people were uprooted and forcibly relocated structures torn down and block upon block of administration towers and slabs erected across Pretoria This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of architectural history as well as those with an interest in postcolonial studies political science and social anthropology

Decolonising Media and Communication Studies Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Selina Linda Mudavanhu, Shepherd Mpofu, Kezia Batisai, 2023-10-27 The book provides insights on decolonising media and communication studies education from diverse African scholars at different stages of their careers These academics located on the continent and in the diaspora share an interest in decolonising higher education broadly and media and communication studies teaching and learning in particular Although many African countries gained flag independence from different European colonial powers between the 1950s and the 1970s this book argues that former colonies remain ensnared in a colonial power matrix Many African universities did not jettison ways of teaching and learning established during colonialism and even those journalism communication and media studies training programmes which were established after the attainment of flag independence did not place decolonial agendas at the front and centre when setting them up Starting with big picture thematic questions around decolonisation the book goes on to consider what the implications of change would be for students and instructors before reflecting on how far it is possible to decolonise curricula and syllabi and what this might look like in practice across a range of subject areas and country contexts Overall this book presents a nuanced picture of what a decolonised media and communication studies education could look like in sub Saharan Africa This book is essential for researchers in Africa in disciplines such as media and communication studies journalism film studies cultural studies and higher education studies More broadly the concepts and ideas on decolonising teaching and learning discussed in the book are relevant to instructors in any discipline who are interested in doing the decolonial work of contesting coloniality

From Memory to Marble Elizabeth Rankin, Rolf Michael Schneider, 2020-02-10 For the first time the 92 metre frieze of the Voortrekker Monument in Pretoria one of the largest historical narratives in marble has been made the subject of a book The pictorial narrative of the Boer pioneers who conquered South Africa s interior during the Great Trek 1835 52 represents a crucial period of South Africa s past Conceptualising the frieze both reflected on and contributed to the country s socio political debates in the 1930s and 1940s when it was made The book considers the active role the Monument played in the rise of Afrikaner nationalism and the development of apartheid as well as its place in post apartheid heritage The frieze is unique in that it provides rare evidence of the complex processes followed in creating a major monument Based on unpublished documents drawings and models these processes are unfolded step by step from the earliest discussions of the purpose and content of the frieze through all the stages of its design to its shipping to post war Italy to be copied into marble from Monte Altissimo up to its final installation in the Monument The book examines how visual representation transforms historical memory in what it chooses to recount and the forms in which it is depicted The second volume expands on the first by investigating each of the twenty seven scenes of the frieze in depth providing new insights into not only the frieze but also South Africa s history Fran ois van Schalkwyk of African Minds co publisher with De Gruyter writes From Memory to Marble is an open access monograph in the true sense of the word Both volumes of the digital version of the book are available in full and free of charge from the date of publication This approach to publishing democratises access to the latest scholarly publications across the globe At the same time a book such as From Memory to Marble with its unique and exquisite photographs of the frieze as well as its wealth of reproduced archival materials demands reception of a more traditional kind that is on the printed page For this reason the book is likewise available in print as two separate volumes The printed and digital books should not be seen as separate incarnations each brings its own advantages working together to extend the reach and utility of From Memory to Marble to a range of interested readers

The Anthropology of White Supremacy Aisha M. Beliso-De Jesús, Jemima Pierre, Junaid Rana, 2025-01-28 An anthology of original essays that examine white supremacy around the globe through the lens of anthropology White supremacy an entrenched global system that emerged alongside European colonialism is based on presumed biological and cultural differences racist practices the hypervaluation of whiteness and the devaluation of nonwhites Anthropology has been shaped by and has helped to shape white supremacy yet the discipline also offers powerful tools for understanding this system at a global scale The Anthropology of White Supremacy gathers original essays from a diverse international group of anthropologists to explore how this phenomenon works both within anthropology and in cultural and political structures around the world The book features historical and ethnographic analysis about Brazil Iceland Japan Mexico Nigeria Palestine Senegal South Africa and the United States and addresses the ways white supremacy impacts a broad range of issues including finance advertising and media representations militarism police training migration and development The Anthropology of White Supremacy demonstrates not only how anthropology can help us to better comprehend white supremacy but also how the discipline can help us begin to dismantle it The contributors include Omolade Adunbi Samar Al Bulushi Aisha M Beliso De Jes s Michael L Blakey Mitzi Uehara Carter Subhadra Mitra Channa Celina de S Vanessa D az Britt Halvorson Faye V Harrison Sarah Ihmoud Anthony R Jerry Darryl Li Krist n Loftsd ttir Christopher A Loperena Keisha Khan Y Perry Jemima Pierre Jean Muteba Rahier Laurence Ralph Renya K Ramirez Junaid Rana Joshua Reno Rhea Rahman Jonathan Rosa Shalini Shankar Shannon Speed and Maria Dyveke Styve

Public History and Culture in South Africa Ali Khangela Hlongwane, Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu, 2019-04-11 The post apartheid era in South Africa has in the space of nearly two decades experienced a massive memory boom manifest in a plethora of new memorials and museums and in the renaming of streets buildings cities and more across the country This memorialisation is intricately linked to questions of power liberation and public history in the making and remaking of the South African nation Ali Khangela Hlongwane and Sifiso Mxolisi Ndlovu analyse an array of these liberation heritage sites including the Hector Pieterse Memorial and Museum the June 16 1976 Interpretation Centre the Apartheid Museum and the Mandela House Museum foregrounding the work of migrant workers architects visual artists and activists in the practice of memorialisation As they argue memorialisation has been integral to the process of state and nation formation from the pre colonial era through the present day

An African Pentecostal Hermeneutics Marius Nel,2018-12-27 The face of African Christianity is becoming Pentecostal African Pentecostalism is a diverse movement but its collective interest in baptism in the Spirit and the result of Pentecost in daily living binds it together Pentecostals read the Bible with the expectation that the Spirit who inspired the authors will again inspire them to hear it as God s word They emphasize the experiential at times at the cost of proper doctrine and practice This book sketches an African hermeneutic that provides guidance to a diverse movement with many faces and serves as corrective for doctrine and practice in the face of some excesses and abuses especially in some parts of the neo Pentecostal movement African Pentecostalism s contribution to the hermeneutical debate is described before three points are discussed that define it the centrality of the Holy Spirit in reading the Bible the eschatological lens that Pentecostals use when they read the Bible and the faith community as normative for the interpretation of the Bible
