this Handbook focuses on the links with other specialties in psychology especially social and health psychology together with other disciplines such as geography architecture sociology anthropology urbanism and engineering Faced with the problems of society which involve the quality of life of individuals and communities it is fundamental to consider the relationships an individual has with his different living spaces This issue of the links between quality of life and environment is becoming increasingly significant with at a local level problems resulting from different types of annoyances such as pollution and noise while at a global level there is the central question of climate change with its harmful consequences for humans and the planet How can the impact on well being of environmental nuisances and threats for example natural risks pollution and noise be reduced How can the quality of life within daily living spaces home cities work environments be improved Why is it important to understand the psychological issues of our relationship with the global environment climatic warming ecological behaviours This Handbook is intended not only for students of various disciplines geography architecture psychology town planning etc but also for social decision makers and players who will find in it both theoretical and methodological perspectives so that psychological and environmental dimensions can be better taken into account in their working practices

Motivational development in current educational contexts Manuel Castro-Sánchez,Ramón Chacón-Cuberos,Lucia Herrera,Guillermo Felipe López Sánchez,2023-06-06 Psychology and Life Allyn,Nancy Franklin,1999 Living a Motivated Life Raymond J. Wlodkowski,2019-03-14 What if as psychologists and adult educators advocate a person chose a life where his motivation for the work itself determined what he did Living a Motivated Life A Memoir and Activities follows the author through forty years revealing how he selected vocational pursuits guided by his understanding of intrinsic motivation and transformative learning As a compass for relevant decisions these ideas gave energy and purpose to how he lived and an instinct as sure as sight for the future Written with nuance humor and unpredictability this story renders how he came to appreciate learning for the pleasure of learning Facing similar challenges as those of today s first generation college students the memoir narrates his unexpected college enrollment his friendship with an ancient history professor and his triumphs and travails as teacher psychologist human relations specialist psychotherapist and adult educator This is the first memoir of someone who consciously chose to lead a professional life to experience flow on a daily basis It is an important step in the integration and evolution of intrinsic motivation theory and transformative learning But it reaches beyond this outcome sharing how the author aspired to be better at what he valued and showing how he discovered and extended these ideas to others

COVID-19 and Existential Positive Psychology (PP2.0): The New Science of Self-Transcendence Paul T. P. Wong,Claude-Hélène Mayer,Gökmen Arslan, In the era of COVID 19 many people have suffered high levels of stress and mental health problems To cope with the widespread of suffering physical psychological social and economical the positive psychology of personal happiness is no longer the sole approach to examine personal wellbeing Other approaches such as Viktor Frankl s theory of self transcendence provide a promising framework for research and intervention on how to achieve resilience wellbeing and happiness through overcoming suffering and self transcendence The existential positive psychology of suffering complements the positive psychology of happiness which is championed by Martin Seligman as two equal halves of the circle of wellbeing and optimal mental health This Research Topic aims to examine the different approaches to Positive Psychology and their influence on individual wellbeing during the COVID 19 era One of the exciting development in the positive psychology of wellbeing is the mounting research on the adaptive benefits of negative emotions such as shame guilt and anger as well as the dialectical process of balancing negative and positive emotions As an example based on all the empirical research and Frankl s self transcendence model Wong has developed the existential positive psychology of suffering PP2 0 as the foundation for flourishing Here are a few main tenets of PP2 0 1 Life is suffering and a constant struggle throughout every stage of development 2 The search for self transcendence is a primary motive guided by the meaning mindset and mindful mindset 3 Wellbeing cannot be sustainable without overcoming and transforming suffering In this Research Topic we welcome diverse approaches discussing the following points The dialectic process of overcoming the challenges of every stage of development as necessary for personal growth and self transcendence The role of self transcendence in resilience virtue meaning and happiness The upside of negative emotions The new science of resilience based on cultivating the resilient mindset and character How to make the best use of suffering to achieve out potentials mental health

Handbook of Moral Motivation Karin Heinrichs, Fritz Oser, Terence Lovat, 2013-06-12 The Handbook of Moral Motivation offers a contemporary and comprehensive appraisal of the age old question about motivation to do the good and to prevent the bad From a research point of view this question remains open even though we present here a rich collection of new ideas and data Two sources helped the editors to frame the chapters first they looked at an overwhelmingly fruitful research tradition on motivation in general attribution theory performance theory self determination theory etc in relationship to morality The second source refers to the tension between moral judgment feelings beliefs and the real moral act in a twofold manner a as a necessary duty and b as a social but not necessary bond In addition the handbook utilizes the latest research from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives wishing to suggest by this that the answer to the posed question will likely not come from one discipline alone Furthermore our hope is that the implicit criticism that the narrowly constructed research approach of the recent past has contributed to closing off rather than opening up interdisciplinary lines of research becomes in this volume a strong counter discourse The editors and authors of the handbook commend the research contained within in the hope that it will contribute to better understanding of humanity as an inherently moral species
