Literacy Development in A Multilingual Context Aydin Y. Durgunoglu, Ludo Verhoeven, 2013-12-16 During the past decades literacy has gradually become a major concern all over the world Though there is a great diversity in both the distribution and degree of literacy in different countries there has been an increasing awareness of the number of illiterates and the consequences of being illiterate However literacy is no longer seen as a universal trait When one focuses on culturally sensitive accounts of reading and writing practices the concept of literacy as a single trait does not seem very feasible A multiplicity of literacy practices can be distinguished which are related to specific cultural contexts and associated with relations of power and ideology As such literacy can be seen as a lifelong context bound set of practices in which an individual's needs vary with time and place This volume explores the use of literacy outside the mainstream in different contexts throughout the world It is divided into four sections Section 1 presents an anthropological perspective analyzing the society and the individual in a society Section 2 presents a psychological perspective focusing on the individuals themselves and analyzing the cognitive and affective development of young children as they acquire literacy in their first and second languages Section 3 presents an educational perspective highlighting the variations in educational approaches in different societies as well as the outcomes of these approaches Section 4 summarizes the studies presented in this volume Both theoretical issues and educational implications related to the development of literacy in two languages are discussed An attempt is also made to open up new directions in the study of literacy development in multilingual contexts by bringing these various disciplinary perspectives together Linguistic and Oriental Essays Robert Needham Cust, 1898

Clouds on the Horizon Robert Needham Cust, 1904 Luzac & Co.'s Oriental List, 1903 The Convert Deborah Baker, 2011-05-10 A 2011 National Book Award Finalist A spellbinding story of renunciation conversion and radicalism from Pulitzer Prize finalist biographer Deborah Baker What drives a young woman raised in a postwar New York City suburb to convert to Islam abandon her country and Jewish faith and embrace a life of exile in Pakistan The Convert tells the story of how Margaret Marcus of Larchmont became Maryam Jameelah of Lahore one of the most trenchant and celebrated voices of Islam's argument with the West A cache of Maryam's letters to her parents in the archives of the New York Public Library sends the acclaimed biographer Deborah Baker on her own odyssey into the labyrinthine heart of twentieth century Islam

Casting a shadow over these letters is the mysterious figure of Mawlana Abul Ala Mawdudi both Maryam's adoptive father and the man who laid the intellectual foundations for militant Islam As she assembles the pieces of a singularly perplexing life Baker finds herself captive to questions raised by Maryam's journey Is her story just another bleak chapter in a so called clash of civilizations Or does it signify something else entirely And then there's this Is the life depicted in Maryam's letters home and in her books an honest reflection of the one she lived Like many compelling and true tales The Convert is stranger than fiction It is a gripping account of a life lived on the radical edge and a profound meditation on the cultural conflicts that frustrate mutual understanding Calcutta Review, 1905 The Calcutta Review, 1905 Science, Education, and Development Anwar S.
