

Welcome Speech on Teacher's Day

Good morning, respected Principal, Teachers, and my dear friends.

As we all know , we are gathered here today to celebrate and pay our respects to our teachers, who are our second parents and role models . Thank you for giving me this wonderful opportunity . It is a privilege to welcome our dear teachers on this special occasion.

The Bulletin of the National Association of Secondary School Principals National Association of Secondary School Principals (U.S.),1948 Journal of Education ,1881 Scottish sabbath school teachers' magazine Edinburgh sabbath school teachers' union,1869 From Classroom To Life: My Role Model in Every Sense Harshita Joshi,2024-11-22 This book is a kind of an autobiography that weaves a heartfelt narrative about the extraordinary connection between a teacher and a student portrayed as a doctor and a patient It s a story of healing transformation and profound impact where the doctor not only treats the patient s ailments but also becomes a guiding light in her journey of self discovery As the patient navigates her life she learns invaluable lessons from this connection and from the teachers who have shaped her path Filled with emotional depth life lessons and moments of clarity this book is more than just a story it s a tribute to the mentors who leave lasting imprints on our hearts Through their wisdom and compassion they teach us not just how to survive but how to truly live Common School Education and Teachers World ,1894 A Study on Professional Development of Teachers of English as a Foreign Language in Institutions of Higher Education in Western China Yuhong Jiang,2016-11-17 This book offers a comprehensive up to date review of the recent professional developments of teachers of English in the western region of China in the context of English language teaching reform and teacher education reform It discusses a wealth of theories frameworks qualitative case studies and quantitative investigations while also covering a range of key practices that are indispensable. It equips readers with an in-depth understanding of the impact of the current curriculum reform on the promotion of teachers' cognition, emotions, attitudes, and awareness of their self-development, as well as teachers' corresponding efforts to update their educational concepts, reassess their teacher roles, enhance their teaching skills, and implement new approaches to their professional development. It is a valuable resource for anyone pursuing research in this field, as well as in-service teachers, teacher educators, and education administrators. And as it offers practical help for the potential difficulties and challenges they might encounter, it is also a must-read for the student teachers of English.

China in the World Jennifer Hubbert, 2019-03-31 Confucius Institutes, the language and culture programs funded by the Chinese government, have been established in more than 1,500 schools worldwide since their debut in 2004. A centerpiece of China's soft power policy, they represent an effort to smooth China's path to superpower status by enhancing its global appeal. Yet Confucius Institutes have given rise to volatile and contentious public debate in host countries where they have been both welcomed as a source of educational funding and feared as spy outposts, neocolonial incursions, and obstructions to academic freedom. China in the World turns an anthropological lens on this most visible, ubiquitous, and controversial globalization project in an effort to provide fresh insight into China's shifting place in the world. Author Jennifer Hubbert takes the study of soft power policy into the classroom, offering an anthropological intervention into a subject that has been dominated by the methods and analyses of international relations and political science. She argues that concerns about Confucius Institutes reflect broader debates over globalization and modernity and ultimately about a changing global order. Examining the production of soft power policy in situ allows us to move beyond program intentions to see how Confucius Institutes are actually understood and experienced in day-to-day classroom interactions. By assessing the perspectives of participants and exploring the complex ways in which students, teachers, parents, and program administrators interpret the Confucius Institute curriculum, she highlights significant gaps between China's soft power policy intentions and the effects of those policies in practice. China in the World brings original, long-term ethnographic research to bear on how representations of and knowledge about China are constructed, consumed, and articulated in encounters between China, the United States, and the Confucius Institute programs themselves. It moves a controversial topic beyond the realm of policy-making to examine the mechanisms through which policy is implemented, engaged, and contested by a multitude of stakeholders and actors. It provides new insight into how policy actually works, showing that it takes more than financial wherewithal and official resolve to turn cultural presence into power.

Pacific Educational Journal, 1892 Inside the Secondary Classroom (RLE Edu O) Sara Delamont, Maurice Galton, 2014-06-03 Focusing on pupils moving from primary to middle or secondary school, it describes and evaluates the schools' programmes to ease transfer and includes material provided by the pupils themselves The main body of the book is a rich and detailed account of the first months of life in new secondary schools where the pleasures and perils of new friends new teachers and new subjects and a new approach to teaching are encountered The book conveys vividly how pupils experience a new environment and meet its dangers rules and regulations timetable complex groupings and ideology Inside the Secondary Classroom was the first comparative ethnography of school life in Britain carried out in six schools It reveals surprising similarities and differences between them The cases studied range from highly successful pupils with nine O levels to others with severe social and personal problems
