Mitchell, Laura Huey, 2018-12-05 Over the past ten years the field of evidence based policing EBP has grown substantially evolving from a novel idea at the fringes of policing to an increasingly core component of contemporary policing research and practice Examining what makes something evidence based and not merely evidence informed this book unifies the voices of police practitioners academics and pracademics It provides real world examples of evidence based police practices and how police research can be created and applied in the field Includes contributions from leading international EBP researchers and practitioners such as Larry Sherman University of Cambridge Lorraine Mazerolle University of Queensland Anthony Braga Northeastern and Craig Bennell Carleton University Police Militarization Frederick W. Turner II, Bryanna Fox, 2018-12-11 This Brief examines the militarization of law enforcement in the United States through the lens of the stakeholders primarily responsible for implementing funding and enacting the practice Largely a result of policies such as the war on drugs war on terror and the 1033 program there has been a gradual but dramatic rise in the use of military grade weapons equipment and tactics used by police agencies across the United States This Brief examines the level of support for various aspects of police militarization by lawmakers police executives and local police officers and how their opinions may differ based upon their current position or demographic features using a series of analyses and propensity score matching techniques This Brief also provides an overview of some of the key policy changes responsible for police militarization and provides insights into the views held by policymakers and law enforcement on various aspects of the practice The results indicate that while many responsible for this shift are in favor of paramilitary procurement programs there are differing opinions on key issues such as oversight and use of military grade weapons equipment and paramilitary tactics This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice particularly those with an interest in policing studies as well as related fields such as public policy public administration emergency management and sociology

Yuille, 2012-12-06 The New Police Officer During the past twenty years the tasks required of police officers have expanded and changed with dramatic rapidity The traditional roles of the police had been those of law enforcement and the maintenance of public order As a consequence police officers were typically large bodied males selected for their physical abilities and trained to accept orders and enforce the law Over the past two decades however the industrialized nations have placed a variety of new demands on police officers To traditional law enforcement and public order tasks have been added social work mental health duties and community relations work

For example domestic disputes violence between husbands and wives lovers relatives etc have increased in frequency and severity or at least there has been a dramatic increase in reporting the occurrence of domestic violence Our societies have no formal system to deal with domestic disputes and the responsibility to do so in most countries has fallen to the police In fact in some areas as many as 607 of calls for service to the police are related to domestic disputes see the chapter in this text by Dutton As a result the police officer has had to become a skilled social worker able to intervene with sensitivity in domestic situations Alternatively in the case of West Germany the officer has had to learn to work co-operatively with social workers see the chapter by Steinhilper

Advances in Evidence-Based Policing Johannes Knutsson,Lisa Tompson,2017-04-21 The evidence based policing EBP movement has intensified in many countries around the world in recent years resulting in a proliferation of policies and infrastructure to support such a transformation This movement has come to be associated with particular methods of evaluation and systematic review which have been drawn from what is assumed to prevail in medicine Given the credibility EBP is currently enjoying with both practitioners and government it is timely to subject its underpinning logic to thoughtful scrutiny This involves deliberating upon the meaning of evidence and what different models of knowledge accumulation and research methods have to offer in realising the aims of EBP The communication and presentation of evidence to practitioner audiences is another important aspect of EBP as are collaborative efforts to co produce new knowledge on police practice This is the first book that takes a kaleidoscopic approach to depict what EBP presently is and how it could develop The chapters individually and collectively challenge the underlying logic to the mainstream EBP position and the book concludes with an agenda for a more inclusive conceptualisation of evidence and EBP for the future It is aimed at students and academics who are interested in being part of this movement as well as policymakers and practitioners interested in integrating EBP principles into their practices
