a broad range of special purpose design processes has been developed in the last several years to tackle the challenges of these specific application domains In this context in early 2012 the IEEE FIPA Design Process Documentation Template SC0097B was defined which facilitates the representation of design processes and method fragments through the use of standardized templates thus supporting the creation of easily sharable repositories and facilitating the composition of new design processes Following this standardization approach this book gathers the documentations of some of the best known agent oriented design processes After an introductory section describing the goal of the book and the existing IEEE FIPA standard for design process documentation thirteen processes including the widely known Open UP the de facto standard in object oriented software engineering are documented by their original creators or other well known scientists working in the field As a result this is the first work to adopt a standard unified descriptive approach for documenting different processes making it much easier to study the individual processes to rigorously compare them and to apply them in industrial projects While there are a few books on the market describing the individual agent oriented design processes none of them presents all the processes let alone in the same format With this handbook for the first time researchers as well as professional software developers looking for an overview as well as for detailed and standardized descriptions of design processes will find a comprehensive presentation of the most important agent oriented design processes which will be an invaluable resource when developing solutions in various application areas

In order to mitigate the issues arising from conventional internal combustion engine powered vehicles there has been a considerable acceleration in the adoption of electric vehicles EVs Research has shown that the impact of fossil fuel use in transportation and surging demand in power owing to the growing EV charging infrastructure can potentially be minimized by smart microgrids As EVs find wider acceptance with major advancements in high efficiency drivetrain and vehicle design it has become clear that there is a need for a system level understanding of energy storage and management in a microgrid environment Practical issues such as fleet management coordinated operation repurposing of batteries and environmental impact of recycling and disposal need to be carefully studied in the context of an ageing grid infrastructure This book explores such a perspective with contributions from leading experts on planning analysis optimization and management of electrified transportation and the transportation infrastructure The primary purpose of this book is to capture state of the art development in smart microgrid management with EV integration and their applications It also aims to identify potential research directions and technologies that will facilitate insight generation in various domains from smart homes to smart cities and within industry business and consumer applications We expect the book to serve as a reference for a larger audience including power system architects practitioners developers new researchers and graduate level students especially for emerging clean energy and transportation electrification sectors in the Middle East and Southeast Asia

Towards a Service-Based Internet Petri Mähönen, Klaus Pohl, Thierry Priol, 2008-12-11 Today it is almost impossible to remember what life was like with no computer no mobile phone and no Internet for accessing information performing transactions or exchanging emails and data New technology is bringing wave after wave of new benefits to daily life organisations are doing business with each other via the Internet people are filing in tax declarations online and booking their next vacation through the Internet In general we are all progressively increasing and dependent on software and services running on computers connecting mobile phones and other devices and exchanging information on the Internet People like to shop around and exercise choice So do businesses and public administrations Today they can buy a complete software package that best suits their needs even though they may never use some of the tools it offers or other desirable tools are not available In the future they may no longer have to compromise on choice Alternative approaches like Software as a Service and Computing Resources as a Service are emerging Software is provided on line as a service when and where it is needed and the same for computing resources needed to run software Such an approach allows individuals and organisations to tap into and effectively harness the immense wealth of information knowledge and analytical resources when they need them paying only for what they use Customers are bound to benefit when there is a sufficiently rich choice of services
