Hensley, 2016 In this far reaching and provocative study Nathan K Hensley shows how the modern state's anguished relationship to violence pushed literary writers of the Victorian era to expand the capacities of literary form He explores the works of some of the era's most astute thinkers including George Eliot Charles Dickens and Robert Louis Stevenson Mid-American Review, 2000

A Dirty Job Christopher Moore, 2009-11-05 Charlie Asher is a pretty normal guy A little hapless somewhat neurotic more of a Beta than an Alpha Male Charlie's been lucky though He owns a building in the heart of San Francisco and runs a second hand store with the help of a couple of loyal if marginally insane employees He's married to a bright and pretty woman who actually loves him for his normality And she Rachel is about to have their first child But normal service is about to be interrupted As Charlie prepares to go home after the birth he sees a strange man dressed in mint green at Rachel's hospital bedside a man who claims that no one should be able to see him But see him Charlie does and from here on out things get really weird People start dropping dead around him giant ravens perch on his building and it seems that everywhere he goes a dark presence whispers to him from under the streets Strange names start appearing on his nightstand notepad and before he knows it those people end up dead too Yep it seems that Charlie Asher has been recruited for a new job an unpleasant but utterly necessary one Death It's a dirty job But hey somebody's gotta do it The Doves Necklace Raja Alem, 2016-05-03

When the body of a young woman is discovered in the Lane of Many Heads an alley in modern day Mecca no one will claim it as they are ashamed of her nakedness As Detective Nasser pursues his investigation of the case seemingly all of Mecca chimes in including the Lane of Many Heads itself in this surreal meditative take on a murder mystery The Guardian Best Books of Summer Nasser initially suspects that the dead woman is Aisha one of the residents of the area and searches her emails for clues The world she paints embraces everything from crime and religious extremism to the exploitation of foreign workers by a mafia of building contractors who are destroying the historic areas of the city Another view reveals the city through the eyes of Yusuf Aisha's neighbor increasingly frustrated by the accelerating pace of change As gripping as classic noir nuanced as a Nabokov novel and labyrinthine as the alleys of Mecca itself this brilliant fever dream of a novel masterfully reveals a city and a civilization in all its contradictions at once beholden to brutal customs and uneasily coming to terms with new traditions American Book Publishing Record, 2006

a profound reflection on how the twenty first century can assume the heritage of the Shoah and remember the unmemorable in a proper way The essays in this volume reflect on this one novel though each from its own angle Focusing on one single novel shows the surplus value of a multispectral reflection on one central problem in this case the allegedly inconceivable and unspeakable nature of the Shoah The New York Times Index ,2000 The Book Review Digest ,2005 The Library Journal ,1999 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately The Publishers Weekly ,1999 The Eater of Souls (free urban fantasy) T.L.
