Fariña,Sergio F. Vizcaíno,Gerry De Iuliis,2021-12-22 An enjoyable read that provides a substantial amount of detail on the biology ecology and distribution of these fantastic animals Highly recommended Choice More than 10 000 years ago spectacularly large mammals roamed the pampas and jungles of South America This book tells the story of these great beasts during and just after the Pleistocene the geological epoch marked by the great ice ages Megafauna describes the history and way of life of these animals their comings and goings and what befell them at the beginning of the modern era and the arrival of humans It places these giants within the context of the other mammals then alive describing their paleobiology how they walked how much they weighed their diets behavior biomechanics and the interactions among them and with their environment It also tells the stories of the scientists who contributed to our discovery and knowledge of these transcendent creatures and the environment they inhabited The episode known as the Great American Biotic Interchange perhaps the most important of all natural history experiments is also an important theme of the book tracing the biotic events of both North and South America that led to the fauna and the ecosystems discussed in this book Collectively this book brings attention to the discovery and natural history of ancient beasts in South America while providing a broader temporal and geographic background that allows readers to understand their evolution and potential immigration to South America

Quarterly Review of Biology An excellent volume This book is likely to facilitate progress in the understanding of fossil mammals from the Americas Priscum Research Anthology on Innovative Research Methodologies and Utilization Across Multiple Disciplines Management Association, Information Resources,2021-12-30 Research methodology is as old as academia itself Research methodology shifts in strategy as it crosses different disciplines and theories This too is true with the shifting landscape of research opportunities and technologies available to global researchers To achieve the most accurate and substantial research it is important to be knowledgeable of emerging research methodologies The Research Anthology on Innovative Research Methodologies and Utilization Across Multiple Disciplines discusses the most recent global research innovations made across multiple fields This anthology further discusses how these research methodologies can be applied to a variety of specific fields Covering topics such as creative thinking qualitative research and the research method landscape this book is essential for students and faculty of higher education scientists researchers sociologists computer scientists and academicians

Reconfiguring Global Climate Governance in North America Marcela Lopez-Vallejo,2016-04-08 Global climate governance has presented problems that have led to failures yet it has also opened the door to new transregional governance schemes especially in North America This book introduces an environmental dimension into the concept of governance Almost fifteen years after the climate global governance concept emerged results worldwide have not been as favorable as expected This book details previous discussions about the concept of global climate governance and its limits It highlights how the Kyoto Protocol has a limited design taking into account a national approach to global regional and transnational problems had no obligatory mechanisms for implementation and explains the emergence of new polluters not committed under it such as China and India Furthermore this book explores other levels of authority such as regional institutions the North American agreement on trade NAFTA and on environment NAAEC as well as the regional energy working group NAEWG The author puts forward a theoretical proposal for re territorialization and coordination of policies for climate change into new forms of articulating interests in what she terms transnational green economic regions TGERs and tests this on two case studies the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative RGGI and the Western Climate Initiative WCI This study presents the challenges and opportunities of a transregional approach in North America Mycotoxins in

Plants and Plant Products Martin Weidenbörner, 2017-05-10 This book provides detailed data and information about the cereals and cereal products that are affected by mycotoxins and gives a basic overview of mycotoxins in these foodstuffs. Mycotoxin contamination of food occurs as a result of crop invasion by field fungi such as Fusarium spp and Alternaria spp or storage fungi such as Aspergillus spp and Penicillium spp which can grow on in stored commodities and are able to produce mycotoxins. In the worst case these fungi produce secondary metabolites called mycotoxins which can be very harmful to humans and animals when for example they are consumed through food due to their various negative effects on several organs in both humans and animals. Mycotoxins in Plants and Plant Products: Cereals and Cereal Products lists the predisposition of a foodstuff for mycotoxin contamination as well as the degree of contamination, concentration and country of detection, origin for each case of mycotoxin contamination of this kind of foodstuff. It includes both alphabetical and numerical lists of literature. Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America, 1896–1960 Rielle Navitski, Nicolas

Poppe, 2017-06-19 Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America examines how cinema forged cultural connections between Latin American publics and film exporting nations in the first half of the twentieth century. Predating today's transnational media industries by several decades, these connections were defined by active economic and cultural exchanges as well as longstanding inequalities in political power and cultural capital. The essays explore the arrival and expansion of cinema throughout the region from the first screenings of the Lumière Cinématographe in 1896 to the emergence of new forms of cinephilia and cult spectatorship in the 1940s and beyond. Examining these transnational exchanges through the lens of the cosmopolitan, which emphasizes the ethical and political dimensions of cultural consumption, illuminates the role played by moving images in negotiating between the local, national and global and between the popular and the elite in twentieth century Latin America. In addition, primary historical documents provide vivid accounts of Latin American film critics, movie audiences and film industry workers' experiences with moving images produced elsewhere, encounters that were deeply rooted in the local context yet also opened out onto global horizons. Down Country Lanes, Behind Abandoned Houses

Keith V. Bletzer, 2015-07-15 Based on six years of extended ethnography in multiple agricultural areas of the Eastern United States, Down Country Lanes Behind Abandoned Houses is a monograph which explores the lives of migrant and seasonal farm workers. The six year study secured multi-setting field data in primary, secondary and casual sites and audio-taped narrative life stories from men and women who harvest and perform the related tasks that help to make the many foods which we enjoy in abundance. The study presented in this book elaborates vignettes from field observations with a focus on workers who use drugs and alcohol and is complemented by formal narrative life stories and informal interviews. The author explores diverse field data that reveal the hardships, exclusion and social adversities that migrant farm workers experience many times more often than any other social group with considerable susceptibility to drug/alcohol use. Down Country Lanes Behind Abandoned Houses gives readers a perspective about farm workers' social vulnerability across multiple agricultural areas.

while comparing willful neglect and social non existence experienced by farm workers to a gray zone of contemporary horrors in the way that these men and women have been viewed and treated over many decades The monograph is an invaluable reference for the study of social problems substance abuse trans national migratory experiences and field methods in sociology The book also serves as a contemporary handbook on the anthropology of American agricultural labor

Nature-Inspired Design of Hybrid Intelligent Systems Patricia Melin,Oscar Castillo,Janusz Kacprzyk,2016-12-08

This book highlights recent advances in the design of hybrid intelligent systems based on nature inspired optimization and their application in areas such as intelligent control and robotics pattern recognition time series prediction and optimization of complex problems The book is divided into seven main parts the first of which addresses theoretical aspects of and new concepts and algorithms based on type 2 and intuitionistic fuzzy logic systems The second part focuses on neural network theory and explores the applications of neural networks in diverse areas such as time series prediction and pattern recognition The book s third part presents enhancements to meta heuristics based on fuzzy logic techniques and describes new nature inspired optimization algorithms that employ fuzzy dynamic adaptation of parameters while the fourth part presents diverse applications of nature inspired optimization algorithms In turn the fifth part investigates applications of fuzzy logic in diverse areas such as time series prediction and pattern recognition The sixth part examines new optimization algorithms and their applications Lastly the seventh part is dedicated to the design and application of different hybrid intelligent systems

Literacy Instruction for Students Who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing Jennifer S. Beal,Hannah M.

Dostal,Susan R Easterbrooks,2024-07-12 Most students who are deaf or hard of hearing DHH struggle with acquiring literacy skills some as a direct result of their hearing loss some because they are receiving insufficient modifications to access the general education curriculum and some because they have additional learning challenges necessitating significant program modifications This second edition of Literacy Instruction for Students who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing updates previous findings and describes current evidence based practices in teaching literacy to DHH learners Beal Dostal and Easterbrooks provide educators and parents with a process for determining which literacy and language assessments are appropriate for individual DHH learners and whether an instructional practice is supported by evidence or causal factors They describe the literacy process with an overview of related learning theories language and literacy assessments and evidence based instructional strategies across the National Reading Panel's five areas of literacy instruction: phonemic awareness, phonics, vocabulary, fluency, and comprehension. The volume includes evidence-based writing strategies and case vignettes that highlight application of assessments and instructional strategies within each of these literacy areas. Crucially, it reviews the remaining challenges related to literacy instruction for DHH learners. Educators and parents who provide literacy instruction to DHH learners will benefit from the breadth and depth of literacy content provided in this concise literacy textbook.

Mapping Latin America Jordana Dym, Karl Offen, 2011-12-01. For many a map is nothing more than a tool used to determine the location or distribution of something; a country, a city, or a natural resource. But maps reveal much more: to really read a map means to examine what it shows and what it doesn't and to ask who made it, why, and for whom. The contributors to this new volume ask these sorts of questions about maps of Latin America and in doing so illuminate the ways cartography has helped to shape this region from the Rio Grande to Patagonia. In Mapping Latin America, Jordana Dym and Karl Offen bring together scholars from a wide range of disciplines to examine and interpret more than five centuries of Latin American maps. Individual chapters take on maps of every size and scale and from a wide variety of mapmakers: from the hand-drawn maps of Native Americans to those by famed explorers such as Alexander von Humboldt to those produced in today's newspapers and magazines for the general public. The maps collected here and the interpretations that accompany them provide an excellent source to help readers better understand how Latin American countries, regions, provinces, and municipalities came to be defined, measured, organized, occupied, settled, disputed, and understood—that is, how they came to have specific meanings to specific people at specific moments in time. The first book to deal with the broad sweep of mapping activities across Latin America, this lavishly illustrated volume will be required reading for students and scholars of geography and Latin American history and anyone interested in understanding the significance of maps in human cultures and societies.

Vertebrate Ichnology Spencer G. Lucas, Adrian Hunt, P. Hendrik Klein, 2025-08-25. Vertebrate Ichnology: Fish Ichnology, Consumption, Burrows, and Reproduction. Geoconservation is a comprehensive and meticulously researched review and analysis of the entire vertebrate trace fossil record, shedding light on lesser-known vertebrate traces beyond footprints. From vertebrate burrows to the ichnology of reproduction, each chapter provides valuable insights and up-to-date information. The book explores a wide range of topics, including consumption through coprolites, dentalites, regurgitalites, and other trace fossils that are evidence of vertebrate predation and consumption. This authoritative reference provides students, researchers, and professionals in the field of Earth and Planetary sciences with updated information on the geological heritage of vertebrate ichnosites and their importance in geoconservation efforts Explores diverse aspects of vertebrate ichnology including fish imprints gregarious behavior evidence and detailed analyses of vertebrate consumption through various trace fossils Provides comprehensive coverage of vertebrate burrows the ichnology of reproduction and the geological heritage of vertebrate ichnosites Written by leading experts in vertebrate trace fossils ensuring an authoritative and up to date reference for researchers academics and professionals in the field Includes over 100 detailed and striking figures Experience, Variation and Generalization Inbal Arnon,Eve V. Clark,2011 Are all children exposed to the same linguistic input and do they follow the same route in acquisition The answer is no The language that children hear differs even within a social class or cultural setting as do the paths individual children take The linguistic signal itself is also variable both within and across speakers the same sound is different across words the same speech act can be realized with different constructions The challenge here is to explain given their diversity of experience how children arrive at similar generalizations about their first language This volume brings together studies of phonology morphology and syntax in development to present a new perspective on how experience and variation shape children s linguistic generalizations The papers deal with variation in forms learning processes and speaker features and assess the impact of variation on the mechanisms and outcomes of language learning A Model for Islamic Development Shafiullah Jan,Mehmet Asutay,2019 This book aims to explore and analyse Islamic Moral Economy IME as an alternative economic and social system to capitalism and socialism It proposes a new model of Islamic development integrating global development within an Islamic framework of spiritual development It is argued that the failure of Muslim countries to provide basic necessities and an environment free of oppression and injustice can be overcome with this authentic Islamic development framework In addition this book can be an important study to identify the theological political social and economic boundaries for changing the society to produce IME oriented developmentalism Science John Michels (Journalist),2012
