Creating the New African University, 2023-05-25. Creating the New African University grapples with the existence of African universities, particularly in post-independent Africa, where Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) are supposed to live up to the expectations of being adaptive in dealing with prevalent complex dynamic contemporary and future challenges facing African societies. The book tackles the issue of what ought to be done for African universities to maintain a structure and identity that ensures their relevance in Africa's development through generating and transforming knowledge into actions for the common good. It engages issues within the context of how post-colonial transformative obligations have been managed in light of the prevalent epistemological and pedagogical underpinnings that form the foundations of these universities as they seek to break from the clutches of colonial legacies. This book further highlights an urgent need to do away with silos and embrace a multidisciplinary, interdisciplinary, transdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary dialogical approach towards knowledge generation. Such an approach is essential in efforts aimed at enhancing the sustainable reconfiguration of university structures and functions whilst linking knowledge produced to diverse social, economic and political facets of African societies in ways that promote and sustain competitiveness in a rapidly globalising world beset with technological advancements.

Kilifi County Kenya. Ministry of Devolution and Planning, 2013 Stories of change Pye-Smith, C., 2014-04-30. Providing a snapshot of CTA's achievements during the last decade, this book is a celebration rather than a conventional impact assessment. Under six broad chapter headings: producer organisations, policy action, ICTs, research and development, providing information to farmers and trade and markets, it gives a fascinating insight into the broad range of activities that CTA has supported through partnerships across Africa, the Caribbean and the Pacific ACP.

Child and Adolescent Development Anne Stevenson, 2018-04-16. Global public health has improved vastly during the past 25 years and especially in the survival of infants and young children. However, many of these children, particularly in Africa, continue to live in poverty and in unhealthy, unsupportive environments and will not be able to meet their developmental potential. In other words, they will survive but not thrive. The UN's Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) stress sustainable development, not just survival, and disease reduction, and the Global Strategy for Women's, Children's and Adolescents' Health proposes a 'Survive' end (preventable deaths), 'Thrive' (ensure health and wellbeing) and 'Transform' (expand enabling environments) agenda. For children to thrive, they must make good developmental progress from birth until the end of adolescence. Addressing the social determinants of developmental problems, this volume offers a broad contextualised understanding of the factors that impact on children and adolescents in Africa Unlike other works on the subject it is Africa wide in its scope with case studies in Ethiopia Kenya Malawi Nigeria Rwanda and South Africa Covering mental health as well as physical and social development it looks at policies and practice culture and priorities for research identifying challenges and proposing solutions Global Women Leaders Kathleen Mollick, Michele Lockhart, 2014-09-24 Global Women Leaders Studies in Feminist Political Rhetoric demonstrates the ways in which women have used political rhetoric and political discourse to provide leadership or assert their right to leadership on a global level This collection fits into the robust research area of international political women and their use of language in gaining and maintaining political power It casts a wider net in terms of discussing women s efforts to assert and preserve their roles of authority particularly when their audiences may perceive their authority as illegitimate due to gender Chapters dedicated to Elizabeth II and Sheikha Moza Bint Nasser discuss the more traditional ways in which women leaders use language to construct political power Other chapters focus on women who serve as political activists either individually or as part of a group including Aasma Mahfouz of the Egyptian Revolution of 2011 and the women who help direct United Nations policy through their speeches in the General Assembly Global Women Leaders will appeal to scholars of political communication and international rhetoric Name of County Kenya.
