Letters to My Mother Mary Ruth Borg, 2009-10-27 I knew I liked to write when I was a teenager locking myself in my room I was angry frustrated and needed a positive outlet I was tired of breaking things I was sad having to pick up pieces of my little treasures So I picked up a pencil to write about how I felt and why I was being self destructive I was determined to find a way to diffuse the confusion in my head Taught very early to pray I d put my prayers on paper Seeing something written brought me back into reality I had a reference point Something I could read over and over to remind myself who I was and that I would be okay This is my story of survival My journey from the traumatic experience of being molested countless times by my step father while living within the strict religious practices of Jehovah s Witnesses to my healing process with Parents United I thought my life of confusion mistrust and low self esteem could never change As I got older I attracted more dysfunction in my choices I didn t know I could change that I didn t know any better I became afraid for my children I thought I was crazy and didn t have good parenting skills After years of therapy I learned to have control over my life and how to take the power back that I kept giving away I am no longer a victim It has been a long and twisty road Today I am proud to be happy healthy and productive in my world I am proud to be a survivor I hope to inspire others and give them hope that the craziness in their heads can go away I want to keep talking about this until the cycle is broken and all children are safe

The Adoption Plan Jack Neubauer, 2025-03-18 During the tumultuous years of World War II and the Cold War new global humanitarian ideas and practices coalesced around the cause of saving the children in China How did China's children become archetypal victims who ignited a new global humanitarian imagination And who would prevail in the transnational contest to control the vast quantities of aid flowing into China on their behalf The Adoption Plan offers a new history of the rise of global humanitarianism that places the recipients administrators and critics of humanitarian aid in China at the center of the story Analyzing how the adoption plan for international child sponsorship became one of the most popular fundraising strategies for humanitarian work in China and across the world Jack Neubauer explores how the globalization of humanitarian aid was linked to new practices of global intimacy that enabled donors to build personal relationships with Chinese children across geographic and cultural divides Drawing on hundreds of letters written by Chinese children to foreign sponsors and extensive research in Chinese archives Neubauer shows how China's Nationalist and Communist parties mobilized the emotional bonds between children and sponsors to secure international support for their competing political projects By the 1950s child sponsorship and international adoption had become the most
