Introduction to Probability with Mathematica Kevin J. Hastings, 2000-11-27 Newcomers to the world of probability face several potential stumbling blocks They often struggle with key concepts sample space random variable distribution and expectation they must regularly confront integration infrequently mastered in calculus classes and they must labor over lengthy cumbersome calculations Introduction to Probability with Mathematica is a groundbreaking text that uses a powerful computer algebra system as a pedagogical tool for learning and using probability Its clever use of simulation to illustrate concepts and motivate important theorems gives it an important and unique place in the library of probability theory The author smoothly integrates the technology with the traditional approach and subject matter thereby augmenting rather than overpowering it This book lives and breathes in the sense that not only can it be read and studied in an armchair but each section also exists as a fully executable Mathematica notebook on the CRC Web site Students will find Introduction to Probability with Mathematica an engaging accessible yet challenging way to venture into the fascinating subject of probability Differential Equations and Dynamical Systems Lawrence Perko, 2013-11-21 Mathematics is playing an ever more important role in the physical and biological sciences provoking a blurring of boundaries between scientific disciplines and a resurgence of interest in the modern as well as the classical techniques of applied mathematics This renewal of interest both in research and teaching has led to the establishment of the series Texts in Applied Mathematics TAM The development of new courses is a natural consequence of a high level of excitement on the research frontier as newer techniques such as numerical and symbolic computer systems dynamical systems and chaos mix with and reinforce the traditional methods of applied mathematics Thus the purpose of this textbook series is to meet the current and future needs of these advances and encourage the teaching of new courses TAM will publish textbooks suitable for use in advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate courses and will complement the Applied Mathematical Sciences AMS series which will focus on advanced textbooks and research level monographs Resources in Vocational Education, 1978 Extension of Elementary and Secondary Education Programs United States.
