The Liberalization of Maritime Transport Services Benjamin Parameswaran, 2012-12-06 Despite multiple efforts on the bilateral regional and multilateral level to create uniform or at least harmonized rules for commercial operations and practices in the maritime transport sector and to liberalize maritime transport services by tearing down the barriers that exist in that sector there is until today no global regime regulating or rather deregulating the supply of maritime transport services and ensuring open markets In this situation private economic actors are confronted with substantial legal uncertainty This book provides a detailed analysis of the history of maritime transport services in the Uruguay and post Uruguay Round negotiations and the role of the sector in the ongoing Doha Round talks where Member States have the opportunity to work towards a global regime ensuring the progressive liberalization of the sector The reader will be confronted with an extensive overview of the role of maritime transport services in the WTO GATS framework a topic basically uncovered in the literature so far

Logistic Services: An Overview of the Global Market and Potential Effects of Removing Trade Impediments, Inv. 332-463 , Designing Mobility and Transport Services Mike Tovey, Andree Woodcock, Jane Osmond, 2016-11-10 European cities increasingly face problems caused by transport and traffic For many people transport provision is unsatisfactory and current arrangements are leading to a deteriorating environment A fundamental problem is that our currently fragmented approach makes it difficult to understand fully the circumstances and needs of transport users In any overall approach public transport is a crucial component Designing Mobility and Transport Services shows how these issues can be addressed and resolved The development of an inclusive validated passenger experience measurement instrument is the first step in understanding the situation and thus tackling it It is needed if we are to create high quality user centred integrated accessible public transport services which are capable of attracting and retaining public transport users whilst meeting sustainability targets The METPEX research project was devised to tackle these issues Coordinated by Coventry University the METPEX consortium brought together 16 European partners from 12 countries The project's underlying rationale was the proposition that if transport operators and authorities were provided with a robust reliable and tailorable means of measuring the whole multimodal passenger journey they could improve service provision The book describes how such an improvement can be achieved to attract travellers out of their private vehicles thereby reducing congestion and pollution and increasing health and well being It provides a template for a creative approach and a meta design narrative in designing for transport systems to enhance mobility choices by improving the door to door journey and thus underpin sustainable transport initiatives
