Relationships, Community, and the Restorative School Seow-Ling Kek, James Lim, Tyler Sim, Enci Li, Justin Mui, 2025-04-29 This book shares our journey with restorative practice and provides insight into how we developed a programme that impacts school culture. The Builders Project. It is a documentation of our experience of bringing restorative practice to primary school settings in Singapore through a whole-school community building approach to enable students to have a positive learning experience and to thrive. This contrasts with implementing restorative practice focusing on behavioural management. It is the first non-Western contribution to the field of restorative practices as a whole-school approach. This book shares Lutheran Community Care Services (LCCS) practice assumptions that underpin the need to build, strengthen, and restore relationships. It also illustrates the application of our restorative practice principles, which are drawn from our experience, values, and research towards building effective relationships among the individuals in the school community. Stories and perspectives of practitioners, students, parents, teachers, and school leaders are shared to highlight how they experience voice, agency, and belonging through restorative processes. Most importantly, we hope that this book will inspire you to reflect on your journey with restorative practice in schools through the reflection questions posed in each of the substantive chapters. This book is for educators, school social workers, and mental health practitioners, educational policymakers, school administrators, principals, academics, researchers, and restorative practice practitioners. This book is also suitable for undergraduates or postgraduate students who desire to understand practice beyond the theories that they have learnt and gain insights on what the journey of practicing and implementing restorative practice looks like.

Interpreting Literature With Children Shelby A. Wolf, 2014-04-04 Clearly organized and beautifully written Interpreting Literature With Children is a remarkable book that stands on the edge of two textbook genres the survey of literature text and the literary criticism text Neither approach however says enough about how children respond to literature in everyday classroom situations That is the mission of this book It begins by providing a solid foundation in both approaches and then examines multiple ways of developing children s literary interpretation through talk through culture class and gender as well as through creative modes of expression including writing the visual arts and drama The result is a balanced resource for teachers who want to deepen their understanding of literature and literary engagement Because of its modest length and price and its ongoing focus on how to increase student engagement with literature either pre service or practicing teachers can use this text in children s literature language arts or literacy and language courses
