A Course in Formal Languages, Automata and Groups Ian M. Chiswell, 2008-11-14 This book is based on notes for a master's course given at Queen Mary University of London in the 1998-9 session Such courses in London are quite short and the course consisted essentially of the material in the first three chapters together with a two hour lecture on connections with group theory Chapter 5 is a considerably expanded version of this For the course the main sources were the books by Hopcroft and Ullman 20 by Cohen 4 and by Epstein et al 7 Some use was also made of a later book by Hopcroft and Ullman 21 The ulterior motive in the first three chapters is to give a rigorous proof that various notions of recursively enumerable language are equivalent Three such notions are considered These are generated by a type 0 grammar recognised by a Turing machine deterministic or not and defined by means of a Godel numbering having defined recursively enumerable for sets of natural numbers It is hoped that this has been achieved without too many arguments using complicated notation This is a problem with the entire subject and it is important to understand the idea of the proof which is often quite simple Two particular places that are heavy going are the proof at the end of Chapter 1 that a language recognised by a Turing machine is type 0 and the proof in Chapter 2 that a Turing machine computable function is partial recursive

Cost Management Leslie G. Eldenburg, Susan K. Wolcott, Liang-Hsuan Chen, Gail Cook, 2016-03-28 Cost Management Measuring Monitoring and Motivating Performance Third Canadian Edition was written to help students learn to appropriately apply cost accounting methods in a variety of organizational settings To achieve this goal students must also develop professional competencies such as strategic critical thinking risk analysis decision making ethical reasoning and communication This is in line with the CPA curriculum and the content of this edition and the problem materials is mapped to the CPA Many students fail to recognize the assumptions limitations behavioural implications and qualitative factors that influence managerial decision making The textbook is written in an engaging step by step style that is accessible to students The authors are proactive about addressing the challenges that instructors and students face in their teaching and learning endeavors They utilize features such as realistic examples real ethical dilemmas self study problems and unique problem material structured to encourage students to think about accounting problems and problem solving more complexly
