Senthil Kumar, P. Ponmurugan, A.

Vinoth Kanna, 2020-12-23 A Primer on Earth Pollution Pollution Types and Disposal is an encyclopedia of important research articles and short essays on pollution Chapters in the initial half provide information about a wide variety of pollutants dyes and microplastics and contributing factors thermal pollution and the impact of GM plants for instance Each chapter explains the nature of polluting agents and presents notes and references on preventive measures Notes on the associated clinical complications due to exposure are also provided where applicable such as the case of MDR bacteria in marine environments The latter chapters of the book cover the biotechnology of medical waste disposal using microbes as well as nanotechnology used for limiting the spread of COVID 19 The volume is a handy reference for students and trainees in the field of environmental science as it brings a balance of basic and applied information on the subject of pollution Environmental Science Eldon D. Enger, Bradley Fraser Smith, 1992 Science and Environmental Decision Making Mark

Huxham, David Sumner, 2000 Science is vital in informing the increasingly urgent and complex environmental decisions that affect all our lives from international agreements on action to limit climate change to decisions on growing genetically modified crops It is clear however that many environmental decisions are taken in the face of scientific uncertainty or ignorance and involve questions of politics and ethics that go beyond science Science alone cannot answer such questions as Are the risks of nuclear power acceptable and Why should we conserve wild species Science and Environmental Decision Making explores the use and limitations of science in helping to answer environmental questions emphasising the importance of ethics politics and sociology in the decision making process Starting with the question What is meant by a scientific explanation the first three chapters provide a simple introduction to the philosophy and sociology of science and the importance of these fields to environmental scientists They explain the logic of testing ideas in science and look at some of the absolute limits of scientific explanation showing how value judgements inevitably influence scientific work before exploring commercial and political influences on science Chapters 4 10 show how these themes are relevant in case studies ranging from genetic engineering in agriculture to conservation marine eutrophication and the use of models and radiation protection Each chapter is written by a researcher active in the area and begins with an editorial introduction highlighting the major themes illustrated by the case study This book is aimed at students of ecology environmental science environmental management and geography It will also be useful reading for sociology students who study how the science is applied
