Writing and Selling Romantic Comedy Screenplays Craig Batty,Helen Jacey,2014-11-27 What happens when happy ever after isn t quite so simple Today s attitudes to love and romance are as varied and diverse as individuals and audiences want and need more sophisticated authentic films that show how we live and love now So what does this mean for the screenwriter developing a romcom And how do they write heart warming stories for a genre that is constantly evolving from bromcom to zomcom to famcom Writing and Selling Romantic Comedy Screenplays offers a fresh approach to creating narratives for this ever changing genre Moving away from rigid and limited definitions that have evolved out of mainstream genre films the book embraces a working definition that crosses cultural and national boundaries to give screenwriters around the world a truly international perspective on writing comedic love stories It will be the first screenwriting guide to reflect the diversity of approaches in today s films that deal with the human need for emotional and physical intimacy using humour the contemporary romantic comedy Features of the book include Illuminating challenging and provocative about the state of the rom com genre Why do some films feel so dated while others are perennially relevant Explores and defines all subgenres of romcom such as zomcom bromedy soromcom and famcom Uniquely draws on creativity screenwriting genre theory and film industry practice Stimulating creative exercises at the end of every chapter and hot tips throughout Adaptable concepts that can be applied to both feature films and short films Encourages screenwriters to define their own values about love to ensure their voice and message is original and commercial Case studies and analyses of produced screenplays including Dostana Due Date I Give it a Year I love You Man Midnight in Paris Ruby Sparks Tamara Drewe Ted and Warm Bodies Interviews with writers directors and producers Genuine international perspective Indispensable guide for both the student and the professional writer or filmmaker Writing and Selling Thriller Screenplays Lucy V.

Hay,2013-09-28 Writing and Selling Thriller Screenplays has the lowdown on how to get your thriller feature script on to the page and how to get it in front of producers and investors First published in 2013 this new edition offers an all new resources section and a host of new case studies that map the considerable changes of the past decade With marketplace disruptors such as Netflix and the first phases of The Marvel Cinematic Universe leaving their mark new opportunities have been created for screenwriters and filmmakers who are keen to get their stories in front of industry professionals This time around Lucy V Hay doesn t just guide you through the writing of movies but spec TV pilots too Putting iconic mixed genre projects under the microscope such as Stranger Things horror thriller Brooklyn 99 comedy thriller and Lost sci fi thriller she considers what writers can learn from these shows She also argues that the lone protagonist in a thriller has had its day and looks at how the genre is moving into a space beyond The Hero s Journey Case studies to support this include The Hunger Games Captain Marvel Iron Man and many more Finally the book considers how the screenplay might be sold to investors exploring high concept ideas pitching packaging and the realities of film finance all updated for the 2020s and lays out alternative routes to sales and production including transmedia such as novels and adaptation and immersive storytelling online Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress,1968 Movies in the Age of

Obama David Garrett Izzo,2014-08-26 The historic election of Barack Obama to the presidency of the United States had a significant impact on both America and the world at large By voting an African American into the highest office those who elected Obama did not necessarily look past race but rather didn't let race prevent them from casting their ballots in his favor In addition to reflecting the changing political climate Obama's presidency also spurred a cultural shift notably in music television and film In Movies in the Age of Obama: The Era of Post-Racial and Neo-Racist Cinema David Garrett Izzo presents a varied collection of essays that examine films produced since the 2008 election The contributors to these essays comment on a number of films in which race and otherness are pivotal elements In addition to discussing such films as Beasts of the Southern Wild Black Dynamite The Blind Side The Butler Django Unchained The Help and Invictus this collection also includes essays that probe racial elements in The Great Gatsby The Hunger Games and The Mist The volume concludes with several essays that examine the 2013 Academy Award winner for best picture 12 Years a Slave Though Obama's election may have been the main impetus for a resurgence of black films this development is a bit more complicated Movie makers have long responded to the changing times so it is inevitable that the Obama presidency would spark an increase in films that comment either subtly or overtly on the current cultural climate By looking at the issue these films address Movies in the Age of Obama will be of value to film scholars of course but also to those interested in other disciplines including history politics and cultural studies

Writing and Selling Drama Screenplays Lucy V. Hay, 2014-10-30 It may be drama features that win the most awards and kudos from critics but in the current marketplace you're unlikely to sell a drama screenplay in the way you would a genre script Breaking down the nuts and bolts of what differentiates drama from genre Writing and Selling Drama Screenplays will consider questions such as What is emotional truth What separates stereotypical and authentic characters What are the different types of drama feature screenplay How do we make these films when there's no money What are the distribution opportunities for dramas Exploring the ways in which drama and authenticity work it will empower screenwriters to make their own story and character choices so they can write and also help to package finance and even make their own drama features Writing and Selling Drama Screenplays includes detailed case studies of produced dramas made on both shoestring and bigger budgets and industry insights from their writers directors and producers It looks in depth at Scottish BAFTA winning Night People the iconic coming out movie Beautiful Thing the touching New Orleans drama Hours starring the late Paul Walker and the ambitious true story of Saving Mr Banks based on the battle of wills between Mary Poppins author PL Travers and Walt Disney himself It will also discuss films such as Brokeback Mountain American Beauty The King's Speech Juno Erin Brockovich Changeling and Girl Interrupted
