Immediately after the conquest of a country its people are assured that their religion institutions and language shall be respected the only difference is that the native Officials are displaced by Russians This continues until Russian rule is firmly established and no one dreams of resisting the czar Then the Russian language displaces the native tongue and if disturbances occur the military is called in to inflict a terrible punishment The loss of the native language carries with it that Of old institutions and when the people have submitted to their fate it is the turn of their religion The Russian is in no hurry he has a conviction that time has no changes in store for his empire hence he bides his time and is likely to succeed in his purpose This process is now carried on in Central Asia where Russian power has found its greatest expansion in modern times It is but fair to admit that Russian absorption there has been highly beneficial because robber tribes were reduced to law and order About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
