The American Experience in World War II: The Salinger David Shields, Shane Salerno, 2013-09-03

Based on eight years of exhaustive research and exclusive interviews with more than 200 people and published in coordination with the international theatrical release of a major documentary film from the Weinstein Company The Private War of J D Salinger is a global cultural event the definitive biography of one of the most beloved and mysterious figures of the twentieth century For more than fifty years the ever elusive author of The Catcher in the Rye has been the subject of a relentless stream of newspaper and magazine articles as well as several biographies Yet all of these attempts have been hampered by a fundamental lack of access and by the persistent recycling of inaccurate information Salinger remains astonishingly an enigma The complex and contradictory human being behind the myth has never been revealed No longer In the eight years since The Private War of J D Salinger was begun and especially in the three years since Salinger's death the authors interviewed on five continents more than 200 people many of whom had previously refused to go on the record about their relationship with Salinger This oral biography offers direct eyewitness accounts from Salinger's World War II brothers in arms his family members his close friends his lovers his classmates his neighbors his editors his publishers his New Yorker colleagues and people with whom he had relationships that were secret even to his own family Shields and Salerno illuminate most brightly the last fifty six years of Salinger's life a period that until now had remained completely dark to biographers Provided unprecedented access to never before published photographs more than 100 throughout the book diaries letters legal records and secret documents readers will feel they have for the first time gotten beyond Salinger's meticulously built up wall The result is the definitive portrait of one of the most fascinating figures of the twentieth century

Sandhill Sundays and Other Recollections Mari Sandoz, 1984-01-01 No one in our time wrote better than the late Mari Sandoz did or with more authority and grace about as many aspects of the Old West said John K Hutchens The proof of that is in her powerful re-creation of pioneer days in the Sandhills of northwestern Nebraska in these autobiographical pieces written between 1929 and 1965 Those who have not read her classic Old Jules 1935 will find Sandhill Sundays and Other Recollections a colorful introduction to Sandoz Country and those who have will look for the same landmarks and unforgettable people They include the Sandoz patriarch the fiery libertarian Old Jules Marlizzie the archetypal pioneer woman who was Mari's mother, siblings, chums, neighbors, homesteaders, and Indians, all individualized and defined by a harsh and lonely frontier. Dangers in every form: blizzards, fires, rattlesnakes, murderous men are described and just as vividly so are the pleasures afforded by country cooking, storytelling, pet animals, and the first phonograph for miles around. Even when she strays, as in the final piece, Outpost in New York, Mari Sandoz never leaves the Sandhills in spirit. Included are a chronology of her career, a checklist of her writings, and a brief introduction by Virginia Faulkner. The Public Image of Henry Ford David Lanier Lewis, 1976. Skillful journalism and meticulous scholarship are combined in the full-bodied portrait of that enigmatic folk hero Henry Ford and of the company he built from scratch. Writing with verve and objectivity, David Lewis focuses on the fame, popularity, and influence of America's most unconventional businessman and traces the history of public relations and advertising within Ford Motor Company and the automobile industry. Wrapped in Rainbows Valerie Boyd, 2003. Traces the career of the influential African American writer, citing the historical backdrop of her life and work while considering her relationships with and influences on top literary, intellectual, and artistic figures.

Clark Chambers, 2002. This is the first comprehensive bibliography on American author Kay Boyle. The politically active Boyle was one of the so-called Lost Generation of American expatriate writers in Europe between the World Wars. She traveled in the literary circles of James Joyce, Ernest Hemingway, and Gertrude Stein. She wrote fourteen novels, nine short story collections, three children's books, five collections of poetry, and two collections of essays. Additionally, she ghostwrote two books, co-edited two others, and translated three books from French into English. The gifted writer was awarded two Guggenheim Fellowships and was a member of the American Academy of Art. The Academy recognized Boyle for her extraordinary contribution to contemporary American literature over a lifetime of creative work.

Cecil Brown Reed W. Smith, 2017-11-28. The son of Jewish immigrants, war correspondent Cecil Brown (1907-1987) was a member of CBS' esteemed Murrow Boys, expelled from Italy and Singapore for reporting the facts he witnessed: the Nazi invasion of Yugoslavia and the war in North Africa, and survived the sinking of the British battleship HMS Repulse by a Japanese submarine. Back in the U.S., he became an influential commentator during the years when Americans sought a dispassionate voice to make sense of complex developments. He was one of the first journalists to champion civil rights, to condemn Senator McCarthy's tactics, and President Eisenhower's reticence, and to support Israel's creation. Although he won every major broadcast journalism award, his accomplishments have been largely overlooked by historians. This first biography of Brown chronicles his career in journalism and traces his contributions to the profession. Prairie Forge James J. Kimble, 2014-05-01. In the wake of Pearl Harbor, President Roosevelt called for the largest arms buildup in our nation's history. A shortage of steel, however, quickly slowed the program's momentum, and arms production fell dangerously behind schedule.

The country needed scrap metal Henry Doorly publisher of the Omaha World Herald had the solution Prairie Forge tells the story of the great Nebraska scrap drive of 1942 a campaign that swept the nation and yielded five million tons of scrap metal literally salvaging the war effort itself James J Kimble chronicles Doorly s conception of a fierce competition pitting county against county business against business and in schools across the state class against class inspiring Nebraskans to gather 67 000 tons of scrap metal in only three weeks This astounding feat provided the template for a national drive A tale of plowshares turned into arms Prairie Forge gives the first full account of how home became home front for so many civilians
