Learning Zulu Mark Sanders, 2019-06-04 Why are you learning Zulu When Mark Sanders began studying the language he was often asked this question In Learning Zulu Sanders places his own endeavors within a wider context to uncover how in the past 150 years of South African history Zulu became a battleground for issues of property possession and deprivation Sanders combines elements of analysis and memoir to explore a complex cultural history Perceiving that colonial learners of Zulu saw themselves as repairing harm done to Africans by Europeans Sanders reveals deeper motives at work in the development of Zulu language learning from the emergence of the pidgin Fanagalo among missionaries and traders in the nineteenth century to widespread efforts in the twentieth and twenty first centuries to teach a correct form of Zulu Sanders looks at the white appropriation of Zulu language music and dance in South African culture and at the association of Zulu with a martial masculinity In exploring how Zulu has come to represent what is most properly and powerfully African Sanders examines differences in English and Zulu language press coverage of an important trial as well as the role of linguistic purism in xenophobic violence in South Africa Through one person s efforts to learn the Zulu language Learning Zulu explores how a language s history and politics influence all individuals in a multilingual society

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi, 2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume s 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer George Lamming Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Zoe Wicomb J M Coetzee and many others Black African

Literature in English, 1997-1999 Bernth Lindfors, 2003 This volume lists the work produced on anglophone black African literature between 1997 and 1999 This bibliographic work is a continuation of the highly acclaimed earlier volumes compiled by Bernth Lindfors Containing about 10 000 entries some of which are annotated to identify the authors discussed it covers books periodical articles papers in edited collections and selective coverage of other relevant sources The Companion to

Zulu Boy is by turns erotic romantic tragic and comic Inspired by the real life drama of a romance between a Zulu boy and an Englishwoman the book consists of various interrelated short stories on interracial relationships in modern day South Africa As the author reflects on love across the colour line it triggers memories of failed affairs and bizarre experiences love spells toxic masculinity infidelity sexually transmitted diseases a phantom pregnancy sexless relationships threesomes and prostitution to name but a few A unique book for the South African market The Love Diary of a Zulu Boy is written with an honesty rarely encountered in autobiographical writing SAJLEA, 1998 The Music of Mzilikazi Khumalo Thomas

Pooley, Naomi André, Innocentia Mhlambi, Donato Somma, 2024-07-11 Mzilikazi Khumalo 1932 2021 an iconic figure in choral music in South Africa rose to prominence as one of Africa s leading composers of art music This is a work of music history Biographical essays on Khumalo s major works including those for choir orchestra and opera are complemented by contextual studies of his compositions and arrangements as well as reflections on his roles as editor conductor and music director Specifically in the context of South Africa s cultural and political transition from Apartheid to democracy Khumalo s key role in establishing the Nation Building Massed Choir Festival a multi racial institution that forged an inclusive space for music in the 1980s is discussed as evidence of his importance and relevance in South African culture Khumalo s major works are studied in relation to contemporary art music choral composition and traditional song These are UShaka KaSenzangakhona 1996 an African epic and Princess Magogo KaDinuzulu 2002 one of the first indigenous African operas Khumalo's artistic collaborators provide insight into their experiences working on these major projects documenting the relationships the composer cultivated with his peers This volume addresses a lacuna in the literature on South African art music which until recently tended to focus on works in the classical tradition and shows that Khumalo is a composer without peer in his synthesis of classical and choral traditional and contemporary

Emerging Traditions Vicki Briault Manus, 2012-07-10 The monograph explores the linguistic impact of the colonial and postcolonial situations in South Africa on language policy on literary production and especially on the stylistics of fiction by indigenous South Africans writing in English A secondary concern is to investigate the present place of English in the multilingual spectrum of South African languages and to see how this worldly English relates to Global English in the South African context The introduction presents a socio linguistic overview of South Africa from pre historic times until the present including language planning policies during and after the colonial era and a cursory review of how the difficulties encountered in implementing the Language Plan provided for by the new South African constitution impinge on the development of black South African English Six chapters track the course of English in South Africa since the arrival of the British in 1795 considered from the point of view of the indigenous African population The study focuses on ways in which indigenous authors indigenize their writing innovating and subverting stylistic conventions including those of African orature in order to bend language and genre towards their own culture and objectives Each chapter corresponds to a briefly outlined historical period that is largely reflected in linguistic and literary developments A small number of significant works for each period are discussed one of which is selected for a case study at the end of each chapter where it is subjected to detailed stylistic analysis and appraised for the degree of indigenization or other linguistic or socio historic influences on style The methodology adopted is a linguistic approach to stylistics focusing on indigenization of English inspired by the work of Chantal Zabus in her book The African Palimpsest Indigenization of Language in the West African Europhone Novel 2007 1991 The conclusion reappraises the original hypothesis that the specific characteristics of African literature are determined by the process of indigenization
