Miniaturization and Mass Spectrometry Séverine Le Gac, Albert Berg, 2009

The recent explosion in the use of analytical chemistry particularly in the biological sciences has led to a need for fast reliable and highly sensitive tools able to handle small sample sizes This book illustrates how microfluidics and lab on a chip devices can satisfy the growing need for miniaturized and enhanced analysis They lend themselves well to mass spectrometric detection as they use samples in the low microlitre range and are handled on a chip Miniaturization and Mass Spectrometry focuses on one particular technique mass spectrometry whose popularity has increased dramatically in the last two decades with the increase in use of biological analysis and the development of two soft ionization techniques ESI and MALDI These enable the analysis of large but fragile biological molecules such as DNA proteins and oligosaccharides The book starts with an introduction to the coupling of microfluidics to mass spectrometry techniques It then goes on demonstrate the advantages of such a coupling the MS analysis benefits from improved sample preparation when performed on a chip while MS yields more information on the sample handled on the chip compared to conventional optical detection A history on the developments in this field starting from the off chip coupling to the on chip ionization is also provided Daniel Figeys a pioneer in the development of microfluidic systems for MS analysis describes the early beginnings of this hyphenated analysis technique Solutions to couple microfluidic systems to the two most popular ionization methods ESI and MALDI are presented throughout the chapters Various examples are given of the application of this microfluidics MS hyphenated analysis technique to proteomics metabolomics organic chemistry and forensics Coverage is not limited to academic research The development of commercialized systems and their current use for routine biological analysis are also presented Lastly a future vision of the integration of the mass spectrometer on the chip is raised as a last step to yield fully portable systems for on site analysis
