

Chapter 1

A Framework for Financial Accounting

REVIEW QUESTIONS

Question 1-1 (LO 1-1)

Accounting is the language of business. Whereas a basic math class might involve adding, subtracting, and solving for unknown variables, accounting involves learning to measure business transactions and communicating those measurements in a format that is generally understood by decision makers.

Question 1-2 (LO 1-1)

Those interested in making decisions about a company include investors, creditors, customers, suppliers, managers, employees, competitors, regulators, tax authorities, and local communities.

Question 1-3 (LO 1-1)

Financial accounting seeks to measure business activities of a company and to communicate those measurements to external parties for decision-making purposes. The two primary external, or outside the firm, users of financial accounting information are investors and creditors. Managerial accounting deals with the methods accountants use to provide information to an organization's internal users, that is, its own managers.

Question 1-4 (LO 1-1)

The two primary functions of financial accounting are to measure business activities of a company and to communicate information about those activities to investors and creditors for decision-making purposes.

Question 1-5 (LO 1-2)

The three basic business activities are financing, investing, and operating activities. Financing activities are transactions that raise cash needed to operate the business. Investing activities typically include the purchase or disposal of long-term resources such as land, buildings, equipment, and machinery. Operating activities include the primary operations of the company, providing products and services to customers and the associated costs of doing so, like utilities, taxes, advertising, wages, rent, and maintenance.

Question 1-6 (LO 1-2)

Typical financing activities would include selling stock and paying dividends to investors, as well as borrowing and repaying debt to creditors.

Question 1-7 (LO 1-2)

Typical investing activities would include the purchase or disposal of land, casino buildings, hotels, gaming tables, chairs, cleaning equipment, and food preparation machines.

Financial Management: Principles and Applications J William Petty,Sheridan Titman,Arthur J Keown,Peter Martin,John D Martin,Michael Burrow,2015-05-20 The sixth edition of Financial Management provides students with an overview of financial management suited to the first course in finance. The focus of the text is on the big picture providing an introduction to financial decision making grounded in current financial theory and the current state of world economic conditions. Attention is paid to both valuation and capital markets as well as their influence on corporate financial decisions. The 10 basic principles of finance are introduced in the first chapter and woven throughout the text to give students a solid foundation from which to build their knowledge of finance. The goal of this text is to go beyond teaching the tools of a discipline or a trade and help students gain a complete understanding of the subject. This will give them the ability to apply what they have learnt to new and as yet unforeseen problems in short to educate students in finance.

International Business Stuart Wall, Bronwen Rees, 2004. International Business provides an accessible and theoretically rigorous introduction to the subject. Starting with an analysis of external environmental factors, the book moves to examine the functional and operational issues faced by international businesses. Throughout the text, more subtle organisational and cultural issues increasingly crucial to success are given strong prominence. The thoroughly updated second edition provides new cases and FT articles encouraging the reader to explore the practical applications of the key concepts. There is also an increased emphasis on international strategic directions to highlight the importance of long term business planning. A coherent structure is supported by a strong pedagogical framework with further substantial resources available on the book's website at www.booksites.net/wallrees. Ideally suited for undergraduate and postgraduate degrees and modules in International Business, the book will also appeal to non-specialist students from disciplines outside business and management.

Key Features: Emphasis on culture, ethics and the environment. New Chapter 8: International strategic issues. New and revised case material and FT articles. Broad coverage of key environmental and operational factors. Strong pedagogical structure enabling an active and open learning approach. Companion website provides resources for both students and lecturers. Stuart Wall is Subject Leader in Business and Economics at Ashcroft International Business School, Anglia Polytechnic University and has acted as a consultant on international business issues for the OECD. Bronwen Rees is Senior Research Fellow also at Ashcroft International Business School and has been a Visiting Fellow at both Cranfield School of Management and Judge Institute, Cambridge University.

Financial Accounting Rajasekaran V., 2011-09. Looking for an introductory text in financial accounting? Then look no further than this book created by an experienced author team specifically for those with little or no previous knowledge of the subject. With a clear written style, this accessible book is unique in teaching financial accounting from a non-country specific perspective using International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as its framework to explain concepts and standards. Building on the success of the first edition, this truly international book continues to draw examples from Europe, the US and beyond and has been updated to incorporate the extensive changes of the past three years.
