Oller, Jon Jonz, 1994 Cloze procedure is a family of testing and teaching methods that leave blanks in discourse and ask examinees to restore the missing elements Edited and coauthored by award winning scholars Cloze and Coherence shows how and why cloze procedure is sensitive to discourse constraints and it offers a comprehensive theory of semiotics showing what coherence is and reviewing a great deal of cloze research It traces in particular the history of cloze research pertaining to studies of coherence from Hermann Ebbinghaus in the 1890s to Wilson L Taylor in the 1950s until today The research presented here aims to show that cloze scores tend to fall if discourse constraints are disrupted Also explored are many subtle questions associated with this tendency Populations

discussed include native and nonnative speakers of English native and nonnative speakers of French and certain special populations such as deaf subjects and educable mentally retarded subjects Contrary to some experts it appears from the theory and the research that all of the normal subject populations as well as the special populations examined here benefit from the cognitive momentum gained from the episodic organization of ordinary discourse This finding is sustained by research from Taylor Oller et al Cziko Bachman Jonz and Taira Further some of Jonz s recent work shows why scrambling encyclopedic text Timothy Shanahan and colleagues failed to produce any significant decrement in cloze scores Jonz demonstrated empirically that some texts just as Gary A Cziko had predicted are not made more difficult by scrambling their sentences because the sentences of those texts are in some cases arranged in the manner of a list rather than a logically or chronologically structured series Scrambling the list therefore has no significant impact The final chapter of this study gives a comprehensive review of research reportedly showing that cloze is not sensitive to coherence The authors show that all those efforts suffer from fatal flaws Cloze and Coherence offers advances of two kinds First a better theoretical basis for experimental research on discourse comprehension and on literacy and language acquisition is presented which stems from a fleshed out semiotic theory Second experimental advances whose results are published here for the first time appear in various studies by Jonz Chihara et al Oller et al and Taira This work is well researched and illustrated It includes figures tables appendices a glossary and an index It will be a valuable tool for language and literacy testers and teachers

The study deals with a difficult and much debated text in Paul s Letter to the Romans 9 30 10 21 The study in particular analyses Paul s use and interpretation of Deuteronomy 30 12 14 in Romans 10 4 17 Scholars have characterized Paul s exegesis here as idiosyncratic fanciful baffling and arbitrary By a comparison with Jewish writings near Paul in time such as the writings of Philo of Alexandria and Baruch the thesis is argued that Paul s treatment of Deuteronomy 30 12 14 can be located within Jewish exegetical method expository structure terminology as well as content and context In comparison with Baruch and Philo it has been shown that Paul s handling of Deuteronomy 30 12 14 can be placed within a Jewish context as to the way the biblical quotations are rendered The thesis is substantiated that Paul s expository rendering of Deuteronomy 30 12 14 follows the method of exegetical paraphrase of a biblical quotation So in comparison with Baruch and Philo Paul s interpretative rendering of Deuteronomy 30 12 14 falls within a form of exposition in which words phrases and sentences from the Old Testament quotation are either repeated or replaced by interpretative terms and supplemented with other qualifying terms Thus Paul s christological exposition of Deut 30 12 14 can be located within the method of exegetical paraphrase with a parallel in Baruch s application of this OT Scripture to the personified Wisdom Resources in Education,1995-05 McGraw-Hill's ACT 2014 Steven W.
