innovative analysis of canonical British novels Campbell identifies a new literary device the surrogate family as a signal of cultural anxieties about young women s changing relationship to matrimony across the long eighteenth century By assembling chosen families rather than families of origin Campbell convincingly argues female protagonists in these works compensate for weak family ties explore the world and themselves prepare for idealized marriages or sidestep marriage altogether Tracing the evolution of this rich convention from the female characters in Defoe s and Richardson s fiction who are allowed some autonomy in choosing spouses to the more explicitly feminist work of Haywood and Burney in which connections between protagonists and their surrogate sisters and mothers can substitute for marriage itself this book makes an ambitious intervention by upending a traditional trope the model of the hierarchal family ultimately offering a new lens through which to regard these familiar works G.W.M. Scenographic Dramaturgy Melissa Poll, 2018-07-10 This book theorizes auteur Robert Lepage s scenography based approach to adapting canonical texts Lepage s technique is defined here as scenographic dramaturgy a process and product that de privileges dramatic text and relies instead on evocative visual performance and intercultural collaboration to re envision extant plays and operas Following a detailed analysis of Lepage s adaptive process and its place in the continuum of scenic writing and auteur theatre this book features four case studies charting the role of Lepage s scenographic dramaturgy in re writing extant texts including Shakespeare s Tempest on Huron Wendat territory Stravinsky s Nightingale in a twenty seven ton pool and Wagner s Ring cycle via the infamous sixteen million dollar Metropolitan Opera production The final case study offers the first interrogation of Lepage s twenty first century auto adaptations of his own seminal texts The Dragons Trilogy and Needles Opium Though aimed at academic readers this book will also appeal to practitioners given its focus on performance making adaptation and intercultural collaboration The Complete Review Guide to Contemporary World Fiction

Critically sophisticated but accessibly written this book gives a sympathetic account of how writers in both languages struggled to give integrated artistic expression to their experience of a city that was still linguistically compartmentalized and culturally insecure By analyzing the interplay between story and narrative form the book explores what French and English novelists could and could not imagine about the Montreal they sought to portray From the responsible realism of Hugh MacLennan and Gabrielle Roy to the fractious phantasmagorias of Jacques Ferron and Leonard Cohen Equivocal City traces the evolution of the Montreal novel with the aim of retrieving a shareable literary past Instant English

Pierre François, 2021-11-01 The relationship of myth to literature has largely been overshadowed in contemporary theory by perspectives of a linguistic or sociological orientation and by relativist sometimes negatory stances on all searches for meaning This book attempts to show that myth criticism and critical theories of more recent provenance are not irreconcilable While taking into consideration some of the more influential tenets of structuralist post structuralist Marxist and feminist theory it applies a post Jungian archetypal approach to illustrating the perennial nature of a particular myth the Fall of Man in two main traditions

Mesopotamian and Christian and in the contemporary novel in English The discussions of five major novels by William Golding Patrick White Martin Amis Salman Rushdie and Wilson Harris not only serve to expand the mythological insights achieved in the first part of the book they also suggest the incommensurability of imaginal novelistic life with mythology's age old intuitions about the human condition Myth criticism emerges from this book as an irreplaceable vantage point from which man's lapsarian predicament can be scrutinized synchronically as archaic wisdom contemporary anxiety and post colonial commitment to the building of a new human city
