The Sidi Rezeg Battles, 1941 South Africa. Department of the Prime Minister. Union War Histories Section, John Augustus Ion Agar-Hamilton, Leonard Charles Frederick Turner, 1957 Sydafrikansk bog om rkenstagene i Libyen november december 1941 The Ordnance Department: On beachhead and battlefront, by L. Mayo Constance McLaughlin Green, 1955 The Ordnance Department: on Beachhead and Battlefront Lida Mayo, 1968 The Ordnance Department Lida Mayo, 1991 Rommel's Desert War Samuel W. Mitcham, Jr., 2007 The most famous battles of one of World War II's most legendary commanders Told largely from Rommel's perspective using his papers and letters In a series of battles marked by daring raids and quick armored thrusts against a numerically superior enemy Erwin Rommel the notorious Desert Fox and his Afrika Korps waged one of World War II's toughest campaigns in the North African desert in 1942 The Axis campaign climaxed in June with the recapture of Tobruk a triumph that netted 33 000 prisoners and earned Rommel a field marshal's baton By fall however after setbacks at Alam Halfa and the 2 battles of El Alamein the Afrika Korps teetered on the brink of defeat which would come in Tunisia 6 months later Sealing Their Fate (Large Print 16pt) David Downing, 2010-06 As the Japanese fleet prepared to sail from Japan to Pearl Harbor the German army was launching its final desperate assault on Moscow while the British were planning a decisive blow against Rommel in North Africa The British conquered the desert the Germans succumbed to Moscow's winter and the Japanese awakened the sleeping giant of America Cape Town Rifles Neil D. Orpen, 1984 Masters of War Michael I. Handel, 2005-12-05 This is the first comprehensive study based on a detailed textual analysis of the classical works on war by Clausewitz Sun Tzu Mao Tse tung and to a lesser extent Jomini and Machiavelli Brushing stereotypes aside the author takes a fresh look at what these strategic thinkers actually said not what they are widely believed to have said He finds that despite their apparent differences in terms of time place cultural background and level of material technological development all had much more in common than previously supposed In fact the central conclusion of this book is that the logic of waging war and of strategic thinking is as universal and timeless as human nature itself This third revised and expanded edition includes five new chapters and some new charts and diagrams Intelligence and Military Operations Michael Handel, 2013-09-13 Traditionally the military community held the intelligence profession in low esteem spying was seen as dirty work and information was all too often ignored if it conflicted with a commander's own view Handel examines the ways in which this situation has improved and argues that cooperation between the intelligence adviser and the military decision maker is vital Sealing Their Fate David Downing, 2009-05-05 It took the Japanese fleet twenty two days to sail from Japan to Pearl Harbor the same twenty two days that witnessed the German assault on Moscow and the Crusader battles in North Africa The Germans failed to knock the Soviets out the Japanese succeeded in bringing the Americans in These twenty two days sealed their mutual fate With each chapter structured around one of the twenty two days leading up to Pearl Harbor SEALING THEIR FATE narrates the battles

the preparations for battle the diplomatic manoeuvres and the intelligence wars The story shifts from snowbound Russian villages to the stormy northern Pacific from the North African desert to Europe's warring capitals and from Tokyo to Washington The book features a host of ordinary soldiers sailors and airmen and those political and military figures who played a key role in the war Taking the momentum of the Japanese fleet SEALING THEIR FATE works as an exciting countdown Other countdowns the gradual halting of the German advance in Russia the erosion of Rommel's resources in North Africa the institutionalization of the Holocaust is worked into this basic structure As Winston Churchill memorably remarked Hitler's fate was sealed Mussolini's fate was sealed As for the Japanese they would be ground to powder All the rest was merely the proper application of overwhelming force

The Ordnance Department: on Beachhead and Battlefront Lida Mayo, 1968 Intelligence and Strategy John Ferris, 2007-05-07 John Ferris work in strategic and intelligence history is widely praised for its originality and the breadth of its research At last his major pioneering articles are now available in this one single volume In Intelligence and Strategy these essential articles have been fundamentally revised to incorporate new evidence and information withheld by governments when they were first published This volume reshapes the study of communications intelligence by tracing Britain's development of cipher machines providing the context to Ultra and Enigma and by explaining how British and German signals intelligence shaped the desert war The author also explains how intelligence affected British strategy and diplomacy from 1874 to 1940 and world diplomacy during the 1930s and the Second World War Finally he traces the roots for contemporary intelligence and analyzes intelligence and the RMA as well as the role of intelligence in the 2003 Gulf War This volume ultimately brings new light to our understanding of the relations between intelligence strategy and diplomacy between the end of the 19th century and the beginning of the 21st century

Desert War Peter Cox, 2015-05-01 The WWII battle of Sidi Rezegh Nov Dec 1941 was part of a campaign to retake eastern Libya Partially successful it achieved the badly needed relief of Tobruk The New Zealand Division played a major role Peter Cox sets the scene for the fighting follows the stages of the action and recounts the often heroic stories of those who fought there Leaders and Intelligence Michael I. Handel, 2012-05-13 From a systematic point of view all intelligence work can be studied on three levels Acquisition analysis and acceptance The author focuses on the third of these levels studying the attitudes and behavioural patterns developed by leaders during their political careers their willingness to consider information and ideas contrary to their own their ability to admit mistakes and change course in the implementation of a failing policy and their capacity to cooperate Auchinleck Philip Warner, 2006-06-01 Field Marshal Sir Claude Auchinleck was born in India and raised in conditions of near poverty Yet his talent ensured his career flourished despite his Indian Army background and he was the first Commander of 8th Army in North Africa Despite great political interference he stopped Rommel's Afrika Corps at 1st Alamein only to be sacked by Churchill After a spell in the wilderness he became C in C India during the dark period of Partition and ironically had to preside over the destruction of his beloved Indian Army A private man of great humour and integrity he refused to be drawn into discussing or criticising his tormentors be they Churchill Montgomery or Mountbatten He always argued that history would be his judge This is a super piece of military biography by one of the most respected post war military historians A Short History of South Africa John Selby,2022-10-05 Originally published in 1973 this book begins with the arrival of the Europeans in South Africa It examines the part played by the Dutch British and Afrikaners as well the diverse ethnic groups including the Xhosa and Zulus The complicated period of the Difaqane or Forced Migrations is clearly discussed as is the genesis and evolution of Apartheid Other major events which are discussed include the advent of the 1820 Settlers the Great Trek the discovery of diamonds the Jameson Raid the occupation of land which became Zimbabwe the Anglo Boer Wars and the two World Wars Accounts are given of Sharpeville and the subsequent introduction of legislation formalising separate development Operation Crusader and the Desert War in British History and Memory Alexander Joffe,2022-02-24 Shortlisted for the 2021 Society for Army Historical Research s Templer Medal Operation Crusader launched in November 1941 was the third and final British attempt to relieve the siege of Tobruk and break the German and Italian forces in North Africa After tough initial fighting the British made important gains only to be countered by a stunning breakthrough overseen personally by Lt General Erwin Rommel As the British situation teetered the commander of the 8th Army Lt General Alan Cunningham was relieved of duty by his superior General Claude Auchinleck This decision changed the direction of the battle and perhaps the war itself Why and how Cunningham was relieved has been the subject of commentary and speculation since it occurred Using newly discovered evidence Alexander Joffe rethinks the events that brought about the sudden relief of the operation s commanding officer including insubordination The book then discusses how narratives regarding the operation were created were incorporated into British and Commonwealth official and unofficial historical writing about the war and contributed to British historical memory Based on a decade of archival work the book presents a new and detailed analysis of a consequential battle and importantly of how its history was written and received in the context of post war Britain Journal United Service Institution of India,1959 Desert War Peter Cox,2015-05 Sir Geoffrey Cox described Sidi Rezegh fought during Operation Crusader in Libya over November and December 1941 as the forgotten battle of the Desert War The objective of Crusader was to retake Cyrenaica the eastern region of Libya and ultimately drive the Italians and Germans out of North Africa The campaign also involved British and South African troops and did achieve the badly needed relief of Tobruk Despite the importance of this campaign in achieving British victory in North Africa it has largely been neglected by historians failing to receive as much attention as Crete El Alamein or Cassino Yet more New Zealand soldiers were killed or taken prisoner during Crusader than in any other campaign fought by the Div during the war Peter Cox whose father fought at Sidi Rezegh draws on his experience of twice visiting the battlefield to tell the story of this complex costly campaign He sets the scene for the fighting in Libya describes the unforgiving and inhospitable desert landscape follows the stages of the action itself and recounts the often moving and heroic stories of the those who fought there Many never returned home This is both an accessible account of a significant New Zealand contribution to World War II and a tribute to the thousands of men who took part in this punishing battle Armor ,1962
