The Spirit Catches You And You Fall Down:

The Spirit Catches You and You Fall Down Anne Fadiman, 1998-09-30 Winner of the National Book Critics Circle Award for Nonfiction The Spirit Catches You and You Fall Down explores the clash between a small county hospital in California and a refugee family from Laos over the care of Lia Lee a Hmong child diagnosed with severe epilepsy Lia's parents and her doctors both wanted what was best for Lia but the lack of understanding between them led to tragedy Winner of the National Book Critics Circle Award for Nonfiction the Los Angeles Times Book Prize for Current Interest and the Salon Book Award Anne Fadiman's compassionate account of this cultural impasse is literary journalism at its finest _____ Lia Lee 1982-2012 Lia Lee died on August 31, 2012. She was thirty years old and had been in a vegetative state since the age of four. Until the day of her death, her family cared for her lovingly at home. Autonomy & Paternalism Thomas Nys, Yvonne Denier, Toon Vandevelde, 2007 In recent years the triumph of autonomy has made paternalist interventions increasingly problematic. The value of a patient's right to self-determination and the practice of informed consent are considered supremely important in present-day health care ethics. In general, the idea of doctor knows best has become more and more suspicious. This has left us with a situation in which paternalist medicine seems difficult to reconcile with respect for patient autonomy. This book offers a thorough reflection on the relationship between autonomy and paternalism and argues that from both theoretical and practical angles the tension between these concepts is not as acute as it might seem. In long-term care, psychiatry, and care for the severely handicapped, the principle of respect for autonomy is particularly ill-suited. This, however, does not mean that such respect is totally irrelevant but that it should take a different shape. Good care in those cases requires us to transcend the sharp dichotomy between autonomy and paternalism. In Autonomy and Paternalism: Reflections on the Theory and Practice of Health Care, various acclaimed authors present their views on this interesting and extremely relevant debate.

Summary of Anne Fadiman's The Spirit Catches You and You Fall Down Everest Media, 2022-03-20T22:59:00Z Please note: This is a companion version, not the original book. Sample Book Insights: 1. The Hmong, a hilltribe people, believed that if a couple failed to produce children, they could call in a shaman who would enter a trance and summon a posse of helpful familiars. The shaman would ride a winged horse between the earth and the sky and negotiate with the spirits for the patient's health. 2. When a Hmong woman became pregnant, she would pay close attention to her food cravings. If she craved ginger and did not eat it, her child would be born with an extra finger or toe. If she craved chicken flesh and did not eat it, her child would have a blemish near its ear. 3. The Lees' 13th child, Mai, was born in a refugee camp in Thailand. Their 14th child, Lia, was born in the Merced Community Medical Center in California. The Lees' placenta was incinerated, and some Hmong women have asked the doctors at MCMC if they could take their babies' placentas home. 4. When Lia was born at 7:09 p.m. on July 19, 1982, Foua was lying on her back on a steel table, her body covered with sterile drapes, her genital area painted with a brown Betadine solution with a high wattage lamp trained on her perineum. No family members were in the room. Summary of
