The Syriac Writers Of Qatar In The Seventh Century:

The Syriac Writers of Qatar in the Seventh Century Mario Kozah, Abdulrahim Abu-Husayn, 2014-12-01 This edited volume presents a number of Syriac monastic and ascetical writers from the seventh century who were born and educated in Beth Qatraye Syriac for Qatar or Region of the Qataris of which Isaac of Nineveh of Qatar is considered to be the most influential of all Syriac monastic writers and who continues to exert a strong influence in monastic circles today Many of the others like Dadisho of Qatar Gabriel bar Lipeh of Qatar Abraham bar Lipeh of Qatar Gabriel Arya of Qatar and Ahob of Qatar were important Syriac writers on spirituality and commentators or exegetes within the Church of the East tradition These writers who all originated from the Qatar region and were educated there reveal the presence of an important school of education that rivaled in its sophistication the other more well known schools such as the School of Nisibis or the School of Edessa The Syriac writers of Qatar themselves produced some of the best and most sophisticated writing to be found in all Syriac literature of the seventh century The Syriac writers of Qatar have not received the scholarly attention that they deserve in the last half century This volume seeks to redress this underdevelopment by setting the standard for further research in the sub field of Beth Qatraye studies This volume includes papers presented at an international conference held at Qatar University in collaboration with the American University of Beirut entitled The Syriac Writers of Qatar in the Seventh Century The conference took place on 26 27 February 2014 It was the first of its kind in the Gulf Region and it brought together some of the most prominent scholars in Syriac Studies The conference was part of a three year research project funded by the Qatar National Research Fund QNRF under its National Priorities Research Program NPRP An Anthology of Syriac Writers from Qatar in the Seventh Century Māryū Kūzāh, 2015 An Anthology of Syriac Writers from Qatar in the Seventh Century Abdulrahim Abu-Husayn, Saif Shaheen Al-Murikhi, Mario Kozah, Haya Al Thani, 2016 The Library of Paradise David Allen Michelson, 2023-01-13 Contemplative reading is a spiritual practice developed by Christian monks in sixth and seventh century Mesopotamia The Library of Paradise tells the story of this Syriac tradition in three phases its establishment as an ascetic practice the articulation of its theology and its maturation and spread The Catalogue of Books of 'Abdisho' bar Brikha Seth M. Stadel, 2025-02-13 This volume presents the first modern annotated translation of Abdisho bar Brikha's d 1318 Catalogue of Books the earliest history of Syriac literature Along with an English translation which is based on Yusuf Habbi's 1986 edition this volume annotates the numerous works listed in the Catalogue by presenting the editions and translations of published works the manuscripts and sources preserving unpublished works and the works that do not survive An extended introduction an alphabetized listing of the numbered entries and writers and the vocalized East Syriac text of the Catalogue are also included Knowledge Construction in Late Antiquity Monika Amsler, 2023-04-03 Social Studies of the sciences have long analyzed and exposed the constructed nature of knowledge Pioneering studies of knowledge production in laboratories e.g. Latour Woolgar 1979 Knorr Cetina 1981 have identified factors that affect processes that lead to the generation of scientific data and their subsequent interpretation such as money training and curriculum location and infrastructure biography based knowledge and talent and chance More recent theories of knowledge construction have further identified different forms of knowledge such as tacit intuitive explicit personal and social knowledge These theoretical frameworks and critical terms can help reveal and clarify the processes that led to ancient data gathering information and knowledge production The contributors use late antique hermeneutical associations as means to explore intuitive or even tacit knowledge they appreciate mistakes as a platform to study the value of personal knowledge and its premises they think about rows and tables letter exchanges and schools as platforms of distributed cognition they consider walls as venues for social knowledge production and rethink the value of social knowledge in scholarly genealogies then and now

The Traditional Teaching of the Ethiopian Orthodox Tāwahedo Church Christine Chaillot, 2023-11-06 Christine Chaillot's new book The Traditional Teaching of the Ethiopian Orthodox Tāwahedo Church Faith and Spirituality presents a topic that is little if at all known outside Ethiopia even in Christian circles Moreover it is a much neglected field in the wider study of African education It is a teaching based on ancient texts and books taught orally to the students who will become the future clergy and who will then share their knowledge with the faithful in Church life The studies of the different disciplines are pursued at different schools and at different levels in liturgy theology with commentaries of books Old and New Testaments books of the Church fathers and monks as well as composition of poems genes and iconography All this teaching presented in the present volume is deeply related to the faith and spirituality of the Ethiopian Orthodox Church This teaching is a unique intangible cultural heritage One wonders however what its future will be in the context of the modern educational methods and social attitudes that have evolved in Ethiopia over the last half century

Imitating Abraham, 2025-03-27 Imitating Abraham provides exciting glimpses into the reception history of the character Abraham in Judaism Christianity and Islam illuminating the manifold ways in which interpreters draw upon his legacy to authorize practices like sacrifice circumcision hospitality feasting prayer and personal and corporate piety Abraham holds surprises his name is used in magical amulets some published here for the first time to ward off demons protect cattle from illness and even to round up runaway slaves Researchers students and all interested in Biblical Jewish Christian and Islamic Studies as well as ritual and exemplarity will want to read this book Fear of God Daniel Eastman An, 2025-11-18 In the writings of ancient Christians the near ubiquitous references to the fear of God have traditionally been seen as a generic placeholder for piety Focusing on monastic communities in late antiquity across the eastern Mediterranean this book explores why the language of fear was so prevalent in their writings and how they sought to put it into practice in their daily lives Drawing on a range of evidence including sermons liturgical prayers and archaeological evidence Daniel An explores how the languages monastics spoke the socioeconomic settings they inhabited and the visual spaces in which they prayed came together to shape their emotional horizons By investigating emotions as practices embedded in the languages cultures and sensorial environments of late antiquity this book offers new insights into the spiritual world of Christian monasteries Provided by publisher Creation and Contemplation Julien Decharneux, 2023-06-06 In Creation and Contemplation Julien Decharneux explores the connections between the cosmology of the Qur n and various cosmological traditions of Late Antiquity with a focus on Syriac Christianity The first part of the book studies how in exhorting its audience to contemplate the world the Qur n carries on a tradition of natural contemplation that had developed throughout Late Antiquity in the Christian world In this regard the analysis suggests particularly striking connections with the mystical and ascetic literature of the Church of the East which was in effervescence at the time of the emergence of Islam The second part argues that the Qur'anic cosmological discourse is built so as to serve the overarching theological message of the text namely God's absolute unity Despite the allusive and sometimes obscure way in which the Qur'an talks about the world's coming into being and its maintenance in existence the text betrays its authors acquaintance with cosmological debates of Late Antiquity In studying the Qur'an through the prism of Late Antiquity this book contributes to our understanding of the emergence of Islam and its relationship with other religious traditions of the time Winner of the 2022 Marie Antoinette Van Huele Prize and the 2023 Richard Kreglinger Prize both Faculty of Philosophy and Social Sciences Free University of Brussels

Between Christ and Caliph Lev E. Weitz, 2018-04-04 In the conventional historical narrative the medieval Middle East was composed of autonomous religious traditions each with distinct doctrines rituals and institutions Outside the world of theology however and beyond the walls of the mosque or the church the multireligious social order of the medieval Islamic empire was complex and dynamic Peoples of different faiths Sunnis Shiites Christians Jews and others interacted with each other in city streets marketplaces and even shared households all under the rule of the Islamic caliphate Laypeople of different confessions marked their religious belonging through fluctuating sometimes overlapping social norms and practices In Between Christ and Caliph Lev E. Weitz examines the multiconfessional society of early Islam through the lens of shifting marital practices of Syriac Christian communities In response to the growth of Islamic law and governance in the seventh through tenth centuries Syriac Christian bishops created new laws to regulate marriage inheritance and family life The bishops banned polygamy required that Christian marriages be blessed by priests and restricted marriage between cousins seeking ultimately to distinguish Christian social patterns from those of Muslims and Jews Through meticulous research into rarely consulted Syriac and Arabic sources Weitz traces the ways in which Syriac Christians strove to identify themselves as a community apart while still maintaining a place in the Islamic social order By binding household life to religious identity Syriac Christians developed the social distinctions between religious communities that came to define the medieval Islamic Middle East Ultimately Between Christ and Caliph argues that interreligious negotiations such as these lie at the heart of the history of the medieval Islamic empire

The Making of the Medieval Middle East Jack Tannous, 2020-03-31 In the second half of the first millennium CE the Christian Middle East fractured irreparably into competing churches and Arabs conquered the region setting in motion a process that would lead to its eventual conversion to Islam Largely agrarian and illiterate Christians often called the simple outnumbered Muslims well into the era of the Crusades and yet they have typically been invisible in our understanding of the Middle East's history

Syriac Hagiography, 2020-12-29 Chapters gathered in Syriac Hagiography Texts and Beyond explore a wide range of Syriac hagiographical works while following two complementary methodological approaches i.e. literary and cultic or formal and functional Grouped into three main sections these contributions reflect three interrelated ways in which we can read Syriac hagiography and further grasp its characteristics. Texts as Literature seeks to unfold the mechanisms of their literary composition. Saints Textualized offers a different perspective on the role played by hagiographical texts in the invention and or maintenance of the cult of a particular saint or group of saints. Beyond the Texts presents cases in which the historical reality behind the nexus of hagiographical texts and veneration of saints can be observed in greater details.

Diversity and Rabbinization Gavin McDowell, Ron Naiweld, Daniel Stökl Ben Ezra, 2021-04-30. This volume contains Hebrew and Syriac text. Please check that your e reader supports texts set in left to right direction before purchasing the epub and azw3 editions of the book. This volume is dedicated to the cultural and religious diversity in Jewish communities from Late Antiquity to the Early Middle Age and the growing influence of the rabbis within these communities during the same period. Drawing on available textual and material evidence the fourteen essays presented here written by leading experts in their fields span a significant chronological and geographical range and cover material that has not yet received sufficient attention in scholarship. The volume is divided into four parts. The first focuses on the vantage point of the synagogue the second and third on non rabbinic Judaism in respectively the Near East and Europe the final part turns from diversity within Judaism to the process of rabbinization as represented in some unusual rabbinic texts. Diversity and Rabbinization is a welcome contribution to the historical study of Judaism in all its complexity. It presents fresh perspectives on critical questions and allows us to rethink the tension between multiplicity and unity in Judaism during the first millennium CE. L. cole Pratique des Hautes études has kindly contributed to the publication of this volume.

The Oxford Handbook of the Bible in Orthodox Christianity Eugen J. Pentiuc, 2022-07-26. The Oxford Handbook of the Bible in Orthodox Christianity investigates the various ways in which Orthodox Christians i.e. Eastern and Oriental communities have received shaped and interpreted the Christian Bible. The handbook is divided into five parts: Text Canon Scripture within Tradition Toward an Orthodox Hermeneutics and Looking to the Future. The first part focuses on how the Orthodox Church has never codified the Septuagint or any other textual witnesses as its authoritative text. Textual fluidity and pluriformity a characteristic of Orthodoxy is demonstrated by the various ancient and modern Bible translations into Syriac Coptic Ethiopian Armenian among other languages. The second part discusses how unlike in the Protestant and Roman Catholic faiths where the canon of the Bible is closed and limited to 39 and 46 books respectively the Orthodox canon is open ended consisting of 39 canonical books and 10 or more anaginoskomena or readable books as additions to Septuagint. The third part shows how unlike the classical Protestant view of sola scriptura and the Roman Catholic way of placing Scripture and Tradition on par as sources or means of divine revelation the Orthodox view accords a central role to Scripture within Tradition with the latter conceived not as a deposit of faith but rather as the Church's life through history. The final two parts survey traditional Orthodox hermeneutics consisting mainly of patristic commentaries and liturgical interpretations found in hymnography and iconography and the ways by which Orthodox biblical scholars balance these traditional hermeneutics with modern historical critical approaches to the Bible
