Cox, 2014-01-21 Unlike 19th century slave narratives many recent novel like texts about slavery deploy ironic narrative strategies innovative structural features and playful cruelty This study analyzes the postmodern aesthetics common to seven tales of slavery from the United States Martinique and Guadeloupe Cuba and Colombia from authors including Alejo Carpentier Miguel Barnet Toni Morrison and Charles Johnson Slavery and African Ethnicities in the Americas Gwendolyn Midlo Hall, 2009-11-05 Enslaved peoples were brought to the Americas from many places in Africa but a large majority came from relatively few ethnic groups Drawing on a wide range of materials in four languages as well as on her lifetime study of slave groups in the New World Gwendolyn Midlo Hall explores the persistence of African ethnic identities among the enslaved over four hundred years of the Atlantic slave trade Hall traces the linguistic economic and cultural ties shared by large numbers of enslaved Africans showing that despite the fragmentation of the diaspora many ethnic groups retained enough cohesion to communicate and to transmit elements of their shared culture Hall concludes that recognition of the survival and persistence of African ethnic identities can fundamentally reshape how people think about the emergence of identities among enslaved Africans and their descendants in the Americas about the ways shared identity gave rise to resistance movements and about the elements of common African ethnic traditions that influenced regional creole cultures throughout the Americas The End of Slavery in Africa and the Americas Ulrike Schmieder, Katja Füllberg-Stolberg, Michael Zeuske, 2011 For centuries social and economic relations within the Atlantic space were dominated by slavery and the transatlantic slave trade from Africa to the Americas By the slowly and arduously achieved end of this trade slave labour in the Americas was replaced in many cases by other forms of coerced labour of African Caribbean people or Indian Chinese African or European immigrants This book focuses on the transformation of societies after the slave trade and slavery in a comparative intercontinental perspective It combines micro and macro historical approaches and looks at the agency of slaves missionaries abolitionists state officials seamen and soldiers

Leo Lemay, 2001 The stories now being told about the colonial American past represent an America newly found as scholars continue to evaluate and revise the longer standing stories that have across the centuries held particular cultural and critical sway This collection is a celebration of the widening of scholarly inquiry in early American studies and a tribute to a leading early Americanist whose scholarly career continues to contribute to the opening up of crucial questions of canon The Rise of African Slavery in the Americas David Eltis, 2000 Why were the countries with the most developed institutions of individual freedom also the leaders in establishing the most exploitative system of slavery that the world has ever seen In seeking to provide new answers to this question The Rise of African Slavery in the Americas examines the development of the English Atlantic slave system between 1650 and 1800 The book outlines a major African role in the evolution of the Atlantic societies before the nineteenth century and argues that the transatlantic slave trade was a result of African strength rather than African weakness It also addresses changing patterns of group identity to account for the racial basis of slavery in the early modern Atlantic World Exploring the paradox of the concurrent development of slavery and freedom in the European domains David Eltis provides a fresh interpretation of this difficult historical problem

Auto/Biography across the Americas Ricia A. Chansky, 2016-08-05 Auto biographical narratives of the Americas are marked by the underlying themes of movement and belonging This collection proposes that the impact of the historic or contemporary movement of peoples to in and from the Americas whether chosen or forced motivates the ways in which identities are constructed in this contested space Such movement results in a cyclical quest to belong and to understand belonging that reverberates through narratives of the Americas The volume brings together essays written from diverse national cultural linguistic and disciplinary perspectives to trace these transnational motifs in life writing across the Americas Drawing on international scholars from the seemingly disparate regions of the Americas North America the Caribbean and Latin America this book extends critical theories of life writing beyond limiting national boundaries The scholarship included approaches narrative inquiry from the fields of literature linguistics history art history sociology anthropology political science pedagogy gender studies critical race studies and indigenous studies As a whole this volume advances discourse in auto biography studies life writing and identity studies by locating transnational themes in narratives of the Americas and placing them in international and interdisciplinary conversations Routes to Slavery David Eltis, David Richardson, 2013-01-11 Containing records of some 25 000 slaving voyages between 1595 and 1867 this data set forms the basis of most of the papers included in this collection Other papers offer quantitative analysis in the ethnicity of slaves mortality trends and slaves reconstruction of their identities Dictionary Catalog of the History of the Americas New York Public Library. Reference Department, 1961 Dictionary Catalog of the History of the Americas New York Public Library. Reference Dept, 1961 Calunga and the Legacy of an African Language in Brazil Steven Byrd, 2012-11-15 Although millions of slaves were forcibly transported from Africa to Brazil the languages the slaves brought with them remain little known Most studies have focused on African contributions to Brazilian Portuguese rather than on the African languages themselves This book is unusual in focusing on an African descended language The author describes and analyzes the Afro Brazilian speech community of Calunga in Minas Gerais Linguistically descended from West African Bantu Calunga is an endangered Afro Brazilian language spoken by a few hundred older Afro Brazilian men who use it only for specific secret communications Unlike most creole languages which are based largely on the vocabulary of the colonial language Calunga has a large proportion of African vocabulary items embedded in an essentially Portuguese grammar A hybrid language its formation can be seen as a form of cultural resistance Steven Byrd's study provides a comprehensive linguistic description of Calunga based on two years of interviews with speakers of the language He examines its history and historical context as well as its linguistic context its sociolinguistic profile and its lexical and grammatical outlines

Slavery in the Americas Wolfgang Binder,1993 Central Africans, Atlantic Creoles, and the Foundation of the Americas, 1585-1660

Linda M. Heywood,John K. Thornton,2007-09-10 This book establishes Central Africa as the origin of most Africans brought to English and Dutch American colonies in North America the Caribbean and South America before 1660 It reveals that Central Africans were frequently possessors of an Atlantic Creole culture and places the movement of slaves and creation of the colonies within an Atlantic historical framework The Black Diaspora of the Americas Christine Chivallon,2011 The forced migration of Africans to the Americas through the transatlantic slave trade created primary centres of settlement in the Caribbean Brazil and the United States the cornerstones of the New World and the black Americas However unlike Brazil and the US the Caribbean did not and still does not have the uniformity of a national framework Instead the region presents differing situations and social experiences born of the varying colonial systems from which they were developed Using the Caribbean experience as the focus Christine Chivallon examines the transatlantic slave trade and slavery as founding events in the identification of a black diaspora experience The exploration is extended to include the United States to exemplify contrasting situations in slavery based systems and identifies the links between the expressions of culture emanating from the black populations of the New World and the diversity of interpretations of the cultural identities of the black Americas Divided into three main parts The Black Diaspora of the Americas firstly examines the foundation of the black experiences of the New World by considering the slave trade The second part takes a more theoretical examination of black diaspora using Rastafarianism Garveyism and Pan Africanism while referencing the work of a range of thinkers including Stuart Hall Paul Gilroy Richard Price douard Glissant Melville Herskovits and Sidney Mintz The work is concluded in the third part with the proposition of an a centred community of persons of African descent a culture devoid of centrality The Black Diaspora of the Americas brings together the key arguments about creolisation and the concept of a black diaspora and presents an outstanding contribution to understanding the dynamics of diaspora Conversations with Erica Jong Erica Jong,2002 In Conversations with Erica Jong one of the most popular and controversial of contemporary writers has her say She was already an established poet when she published Fear of Flying 1973 but the novel's sensational reception came to overshadow all her work In interviews from 1973 to 2001 Jong relates the extraordinary experience she gained as a pioneer of sexual writing from a female point of view With equal attention to the art of fiction and poetry she yields her views on the literary scene and on the place of poetry in American society Among the highlights of the book is Jong's account of the publication of Fear of Flying and its remarkable best seller rise Cast into the role of spokesperson for feminism in the seventies she has continued to represent her generation of women In several conversations she talks about the tensions within feminism over the decades Jong's fame has been deeply branded by the notoriety associated with sex She speaks for all women writers who have addressed sexual topics and who have suffered retaliation She tells the story of the struggle to keep writing honestly when the public's perception of one's work has made one a target She describes the difficulty of escaping categories created by the media and the critical community and the frustration of living in the shadow of one notorious best seller In Jong's writing humor is a constant and one of the pleasures of reading these conversations is her abundant wit Conversations with Erica Jong reveals the writer to be funny articulate and passionately committed to her art Charlotte Templin is the author of Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation The Example of Erica Jong Her work has appeared in American Studies The Missouri Review and Centennial Review
