Day, Margit Wiesner, 2019-07-23 Winner 2020 DLC Outstanding Contribution Award given by the American Society of Criminology An exploration of criminal trajectories placing them in a developmental context Over the past several years notions of developmental trajectories particularly criminal trajectories have taken hold as important areas of investigation for researchers interested in the longitudinal study of crime This accessible volume presents the first full length overview of criminal trajectories as a concept and methodology and makes the case for a developmental approach to the topic The volume shows how a developmental perspective is important from a practical standpoint helping to inform the design of prevention and early intervention programs to forestall the onset of antisocial and criminal activity particularly when it begins in childhood Crime in this view does not suit a one size fits all model There are different types of criminals who develop as the result of different types of developmental factors and experiences By considering what risk factors may set the stage for later crimes in certain circumstances the authors argue that we may be able to intervene at any point along the life course and if addressed early enough prevent criminal behavior from taking root Criminal Trajectories offers a comprehensive synthesis of the findings from numerous criminal trajectory studies presented through a multi disciplinary lens It addresses the policy and practice implications of these findings for the criminal justice system including a critique of current sentencing and incarceration practices and presents twelve recommendations informed by developmental frameworks for future work

Managing

Clinical Risk Caroline Logan, Lorraine Johnstone, 2012-11-12 Our book summarises the most recent research on key areas of practice e.g. violence and with special groups e.g. women and young people. However, summaries are not just a rehash of old research findings but a fresh look at the challenge of harm prevention and how to do it. Working with Trauma-Exposed Children and Adolescents Joanna Pozzulo, Craig Bennell, 2018-12-07 Far too often children and youth experience trauma from rare events such as mass shootings, terrorism attacks and school lockdowns to very common occurrences such as bullying, exposure to drugs and alcohol or various mental health issues. They can experience these events both directly and indirectly from surfing the internet, watching television or through their friends. Our children spend a large portion of their day at school interacting with other students, teachers and school personnel where these topics are raised and discussed. This edited volume addresses how our teachers and school personnel can help students deal with these potentially traumatic events to reach the most positive possible outcomes. This collection brings together leading experts including academics and professionals working in the field to provide the most current evidence-based practices on how to help students who may have experienced or witnessed trauma. It presents research and advice on how to respond to traumatic events regarding bullying, drugs and alcohol, sexual abuse, mental health, lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer LGBTQ safety, stranger danger, childhood disruptive behaviors, school shootings and lockdowns and terrorism. It also includes a chapter focused on how to implement a school safety program. Schools cannot deal with these issues alone; effective strategies must engage family members and the broader community. Hence the collection includes a chapter on how schools can partner with families and the communities they reside in to bring about positive change. All this work pays close attention to cultural and religious sensitivity, socio-economic variabilities, diversity issues and developmental stages. Firemen's Magazine, 1882

Girls School L.J. Breedlove, 2023-11-21 No One Knows Where They Come From The Wolf Harbor Boarding School was mostly just a fantasy until the students started showing up on their doorstep. First there was Pi, a Cambodian teenager. He joined the three young women who were already there and no one thought much more about it. There were so many bigger crises to deal with. But then Pi disappeared for a day and brought back a 13-year-old girl from Thailand. The next week it was two girls from Laos. Benny Garrison, Story Teller and Teacher in the Hat Island pack, began to get alarmed. He figured his father had to be involved when it came to Southeast Asia; he usually was. But his father isn't answering his calls and neither is his pack. Second Now Benny Garrison is really concerned. Where are these girls coming from? And more important, why were they coming here?
