

Words Free as Confetti

Come, words, come in your every color.
I'll toss you in storm or breeze.
I'll say, say, say you,
taste you sweet as plump plums,
bitter as old lemons.
I'll sniff you, words, warm
as almonds or tart as apple-red,
feel you green
and soft as new grass...

The Quick Guide to Simultaneous, Hybrid, and Blended Learning Douglas Fisher,Nancy Frey,John Almarode,Aleigha Henderson-Rosser,2021-03-06 What a year Twelve months and counting since COVID expanded stretched and blurred the boundaries of teaching and learning at least one thing has remained constant our commitment as educators to move learning forward It s just the context that keeps changing why Doug Fisher Nancy Frey John Almarode and Aleigha Henderson Rosser have created a follow up to The Distance Learning Playbook their all new Quick Guide to Simultaneous Hybrid and Blended Learning First to be clear simultaneous learning must not be an additive meaning we combine two entirely different approaches and double our workload That s unsustainable Instead we must extract integrate and implement what works best from both distance learning and face to face learning environments Then and only then Doug Nancy John and Aleigha insist can we maximize the learning opportunities for all of our students To that end The Quick Guide to Simultaneous Hybrid and Blended Learning describes how to Have clarity about the most important learning outcomes for our students This will help us decide what is best done asynchronously and what is best done with our Roomies and Zoomies Capitalize on the potential of asynchronous learning and use that valuable time to preview and review This way we can draw on evidence from these tasks to help us decide where to go next in our teaching and our students learning Utilize synchronous learning for collaborative learning and scaffolding of content skills and essential understandings In doing so we can collect additional evidence of students learning so that we provide feedback that moves learning forward Establish norms for combining synchronous and face to face environments in simultaneous learning Importantly we have to set up the environment for our Roomies and Zoomies to learn together Develop learning experiences and tasks that maximize learner engagement for all learners in all settings Focus on acceleration and learning recovery In other words no more deficit thinking Our students are where they are and there are specific things that we can do to ensure their learning Implement the guide s many resources strategies and templates None of us chose to be in a situation where some learners are physically in our classrooms while others attend virtually and remotely write Doug Nancy John and Aleigha However what we hope to convey is that we've got this. While the context is different, the principles behind clarity planning high yield strategies and interventions, student learning and assessment hold steady. This is where The Quick Guide to Simultaneous Hybrid and Blended Learning will prove indispensable on this next leg of our journey. The Common Core Companion: The Standards Decoded, Grades 3-5 Leslie A. Blauman, Leslie Blauman, Jim Burke, 2014-04-24. This book explains what the standards say, what they mean, and how to teach them. The book is organized by the Anchor Standards in the following categories: Reading, Literature, Informational Text, Foundational Reading Skills. This is a departure from the 6-12 standards that we will have to consider in design format: Writing, Speaking, and Listening, Language. Sharing the Journey David Yellin, 2017-05-12. This wonderful resource from two authors with an infectious enthusiasm for children's literature will help readers select and share quality books for and with young children. Specifically focused on infants through the third grade, Sharing the Journey contains descriptive book annotations, instructive commentary, and creative teaching activities tailored for those important years. Extensive book lists throughout will help readers build a library of quality children's literature. Books representing other cultures are included to help celebrate diversity, as well as cultural connection. Genre chapters include poetry, fantasy, and realistic and historical fiction. A chapter on informational books demonstrates how young children can be introduced to and learn to enjoy nonfiction. A Celebration of Literature and Response Marjorie R. Hancock, 2004. Reinforced by teachers' experiences in actual classrooms, this book provides a wealth of ideas for projects, readings, and response-based activities that will engage all learners in the joy of reading and responding to literature. It blends an appreciation of children's books across all genres with an emphasis on meaningful instructional strategies for literacy programs. Coverage of multicultural international literature helps illustrate the universality of themes in children's literature, providing a basis for establishing a library of literature that expresses the totality of children's experiences and speaks to children from all cultures and backgrounds. Coverage is based on Louise Rosenblatt's transactional theory of reader response and organized around five main celebrations that the author uses as a framework for uniting the findings of reader response theory with quality children's literature and exemplary reflective literature-based practice. Includes expanded coverage on multicultural international literature, including numerous examples of children's literature written and published in other countries. Includes extensive coverage of reader responses to literature, oral and written responses, as well as those made through the visual arts. For teachers of Children's Literature. Introduces future teachers to the full range of children's responses to literature, encourages the use of a variety of strategies to elicit authentic, heartfelt, meaningful responses from pupils. An appendix on children's literature awards. Highlights exemplary children's literature across all genres, focuses students' attention on established standards, and offers guidance for choosing literature that meets such standards.
