Weaving,2012-12-06 Sir Diarmuid Downs CBE FEng FRS Engineering is about designing and making marketable artefacts The element of design is what principally distinguishes engineering from science The engineer is a creator He brings together knowledge and experience from a variety of sources to serve his ends producing goods of value to the individual and to the community An important source of information on which the engineer draws is the work of the scientist or the scientifically minded engineer The pure scientist is concerned with knowledge for its own sake and receives his greatest satisfaction if his experimental observations fit into an aesthetically satisfying theory The applied scientist or engineer is also concerned with theory but as a means to an end He tries to devise a theory which will encompass the known experimental facts both because an all embracing theory somehow serves as an extra validation of the facts and because the theory provides us with new leads to further fruitful experimental investigation I have laboured these perhaps rather obvious points because they are well exemplified in this present book The first internal combustion engines produced just over one hundred years ago were very simple the design being based on very limited experimental information The current engines are extremely complex and while the basic design of cylinder piston connecting rod and crankshaft has changed but little the overall performance in respect of specific power fuel economy pollution noise and cost has been absolutely transformed Selected Papers on Chemical Engineering Science Dirk Willem Krevelen,1976 Engineering Science and Mechanics American Astronautical Society,1983 Applied Mechanics Reviews ,1974 English Mechanics and the World of Science ,1885 Use of Services for Family Planning and Infertility, United States, 1982 Gerry E. Hendershot,Marjorie C. Horn,William D. Mosher,1988 The 1982 statistics on the use of family planning and infertility services presented in this report are preliminary results from Cycle III of the National Survey of Family Growth NSFG conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics Data were collected through personal interviews with a multistage area probability sample of 7969 women aged 15 44 A detailed series of questions was asked to obtain relatively complete estimates of the extent and type of family planning services received Statistics on family planning services are limited to women who were able to conceive 3 years before the interview date Overall 79% of currently married nonsterile women reported using some type of family planning service during the previous 3 years There were no statistically significant differences between white 79% black 75% or Hispanic 77% wives or between the 2 income groups The 1982 survey questions were more comprehensive than those of earlier cycles of the survey The annual rate of visits for family planning services in 1982 was 1077 visits 1000 women Teenagers had the highest annual visit rate 1581 1000 of any age group for all sources of family planning services combined Visit rates declined sharply with age from 1447 at ages 15 24 to 479 at ages 35 44 Similar declines with age also were found in the visit rates for white and black women separately Nevertheless the annual visit rate for black women 1334 1000 was significantly higher than that for white women 1033 The highest overall visit rate was for black women 15 19 years of age 1867 1000 Nearly 2 3 of all family planning visits were to private medical sources Teenagers of all races had higher family planning service visit rates to clinics than to private medical sources as did black women age 15 24 White women age 20 and older had higher visit rates to private medical services than to clinics Never married women had higher visit rates to clinics than currently or formerly married women Data were also collected in 1982 on use of medical services for infertility by women who had difficulty in conceiving or carrying a pregnancy to term About 1 million ever married women had 1 or more infertility visits in the 12 months before the interview During the 3 years before interview about 1 9 million women had infertility visits For all ever married women as well as for white and black women separately infertility services were more likely to be secured from private medical sources than from clinics The survey design reliability of the estimates and the terms used are explained in the technical notes The Engineer, 1871
