Understanding American Government Susan Welch,1991 Teaching the Humanities Online: A Practical Guide to the Virtual Classroom ,2011 Just in Time Teaching Scott Simkins,Mark Maier,2023-07-03 Just in Time Teaching JiTT is a

pedagogical approach that requires students to answer questions related to an upcoming class a few hours beforehand using an online course management system While the phrase just in time may evoke shades of slap dash work and cut corners JiTT pedagogy is just the opposite It helps students to view learning as a process that takes time introspection and persistence Students who experience JiTT come to class better prepared and report that it helps to focus and organize their out of class studying Their responses to JiTT questions make gaps in their learning visible to the teacher prior to class enabling him or her to address learning gaps while the material is still fresh in students minds hence the label just in time JiTT questions differ from traditional homework problems in being designed not only to build cognitive skills but also to help students confront misconceptions make connections to previous knowledge and develop metacognitive thinking practices Students consequently spend more time on course concepts and ideas but also read their textbooks in ways that result in more effective and deeper learning Starting the class with students work also dramatically changes the classroom learning environment creating greater student engagement This book demonstrates that JiTT has broad appeal across the academy Part I provides a broad overview of JiTT introducing the pedagogy and exploring various dimensions of its use without regard to discipline Part II of the book demonstrates JiTT s remarkable cross disciplinary impact with examples of applications in physics biology the geosciences economics history and the humanities Just in Time Teaching article from The Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Reprinted with permission from Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education Magazine www.hispanicoutlook.com Resources in Education ,1984 The Joy of Science Richard A. Lockshin,2007-11-05 Scientists have great passion What could be more exhilarating than to go to work every day feeling as if you were once again a nine year old called up to the stage to help the magician with his trick To be a researcher is to always be in the position of having the chance to see how the trick works No wonder that many researchers feel that each new day is the most exciting day to be a scientist It therefore is not surprising that scientists have such trouble communicating with non scientists It is difficult for the scientist to understand a life not focused on the desire to understand But the differences are not that Everyone wants to understand that is one of the factors that make us human The difference is more that scientists limit their definition of comprehension to specific rules of logic and evidence These rules apply and are used in everyday life but often with less rigor or restrictions on evidence

SPEC flyer p 1. Kill the Documentary Jill Godmilow, 2022-03-22. Can the documentary be useful? Can a film change how its viewers think about the world and their potential role in it? In Kill the Documentary, the award-winning director Jill Godmilow issues an urgent call for a new kind of nonfiction filmmaking. She critiques documentary films from Nanook of the North to the recent Ken Burns Lynn Novick series The Vietnam War. Tethered to what Godmilow calls the pedigree of the real and the pornography of the real, they fail to activate their viewers' engagement with historical or present-day problems.

Whether depicting the hardships of poverty or the horrors of war, conventional documentaries produce an us watching them mode that ultimately reinforces self-satisfaction and self-absorption. In place of the conventional documentary, Godmilow advocates for a postrealist cinema. Instead of offering the faux empathy and sentimental spectacle of mainstream documentaries, postrealist nonfiction films are acts of resistance. They are experimental, interventionist, performative, and transformative. Godmilow demonstrates how a film can produce meaningful, useful experience by forcefully challenging ways of knowing and how viewers come to understand the world. She considers her own career as a filmmaker as well as the formal and political strategies of artists such as Luis Buñuel, Georges Franju, Harun Farocki, Trinh T. Minh-ha, Rithy Panh, and other directors. Both manifesto and guidebook, Kill the Documentary proposes provocative new ways of making and watching films. The School Services Sourcebook, Second Edition Cynthia Franklin, Mary Beth Harris, Paula Allen-Meares, 2013-01-31

A state-of-the-art revision of the sourcebook that is a must-have for all school-based social workers, counselors, and mental health professionals. Applied Mechanics Reviews, 1986
