Hollywood or History? Scott L. Roberts,Charles J. Elfer,2021-01-01 The challenges of teaching history are acute where we consider the world history classroom Generalized world history courses are a part of many if not most K 12 curricular frameworks in the United States While United States history tends to dominate the scholarship and conversation there are an equally wide number of middle level and secondary students and teachers engaged in the study of world history in our public schools And the challenges are real In the first place if we are to mark content coverage as a curricular obstacle in the history classroom generally then we must underscore that concern in the world history classroom and for obvious reasons

The curricular terrain to choose from is immense and forever expanding dealing with the development of numerous civilizations over millennia and across a wide geographic expanse In addition to curricular concerns world historical topics are inherently farther away from most students lives not just temporally but often geographically and culturally Thus the rationale for the present text Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach World History The reviews of the first volume Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach United States History strategy have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioner Classroom utility and teacher practice have remained our primary objectives in developing the Hollywood or History strategy and we are encouraged by the possibilities of Volume II and the capacity of this most recent text to impact teaching and learning in world history We believe that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching world history The book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine eras in world history

Their Future Michael Gubser,2025-05-27 A compelling examination of how economic development projects ignore local history and the effects of this shortsightedness Foreign aid planners rarely consider the history of the societies in which they work an oversight noted in the development literature but rarely examined Aid programs costing billions of dollars operate largely in a historical vacuum divorced from the knowledge of what succeeded or failed in the past Michael Gubser chronicles the varieties of ahistoricism in international development theory and practice since 1945 He traces the history of development ideas analyzing key theoretical and policy statements to highlight the marginalization of history in favor of technical solutions to economic and social problems and he examines aid programs in several developing countries to show how Western models of social and economic development have been applied and misapplied

Whose National Security? Gary Kinsman,Dieter K. Buse,Mercedes Steedman,2000-10-01 Would you believe that RCMP operatives used to spy on Tupperware parties In the 1950s and 60s they did They also monitored high school students gays and lesbians trade unionists left wing political groups feminists consumer s associations Black activists First Nations people and Quebec sovereigntists The establishment of a tenacious Canadian security state came as no accident On the contrary the highest levels of government and the police along with non governmental interests and institutions were involved in a concerted campaign The security state grouped ordinary Canadians into dozens of political stereotypes and labelled them as threats Whose National Security probes the security state s ideologies and hidden agendas and sheds light on threats to democracy that persist to the present day The contributors varied approaches open up avenues for reconceptualizing the nature of spying

International Relations of the Middle East Louise Fawcett,2013-03-21 Leading scholars of Middle East politics and international relations present comprehensive coverage of the international politics of the Middle East a region at the forefront of international attention

Living with Peril Andreas Wenger,2000-01-01 Living with Peril explains in detail how the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations adapted to the reality of a Soviet nuclear force capable of destroying the United States and against which there was no effective defense Wenger illuminates the development implementation and evolution of U S government policies designed to avoid war and to respond to the vulnerability of nuclear destruction Drawing from a wealth of sources Wenger provides an insightful and original perspective on the origins of cold war nuclear diplomacy This is crucial reading for students and scholars of international relations peace and conflict studies and diplomatic history Congressional Record United States. Congress,1999 The End of the First Indochina War James Waite,2012-08-21 The French withdrawal from Vietnam in 1954 was the product of global pressures and triggered significant global consequences By treating the war as an international issue this book places Indochina at the center of the Cold War in the mid 1950s Arguing that the Indochina War cannot be understood as a topic of Franco US relations but ought to be treated as international history this volume brings in Vietnamese and other global agents including New Zealand Australia and especially Britain as well as China and the Soviet Union Importantly the book also argues that the successful French withdrawal from Vietnam a political defeat for the Eisenhower administration helped to avert outright warfare between the major powers although with very mixed results for the inhabitants of Vietnam who faced partition and further bloodshed The End of the First Indochina War explores the complexities of intra alliance competition over global strategy especially between the United States and British Commonwealth arguing that these rivalries are as important to understanding the Cold War as east west confrontation This is the first truly global interpretation of the French defeat in 1954 based on the author s research in five western countries and the latest scholarship from historians of Vietnam China and Russia Readers will find much that is new both in terms of archival revelations and original interpretations Mao's Military Romanticism Shu Guang Zhang,1995 Zhang argues that war in Korea offered Mao yet another opportunity to expand and consolidate his political power at home while at the same time uniting the Chinese proletariat against Yankee imperialism and proving to the international community that China had arrived as a major world power
