School Science Practical Work in Africa Umesh Ramnarain, 2020-06-01 School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools. It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research informed practices on school science practical work. The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries. Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry based learning which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher dominated to a learner centered approach. The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work contextual factors in the enactment of practical work and professional development in teaching practical work. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers and post graduate students in the fields of science education and educational policy.

The Routledge Handbook of Disability in Southern Africa Tsitsi Chataika, 2018-07-27 This comprehensive ground breaking southern African centred collection spans the breadth of disability research and practice. Reputable and emerging scholars together with disability advocates adopt a critical and interdisciplinary stance to prove challenge and shift commonly held social understanding of disability in traditional discourses. Frontiers and practices in prominent areas such as inter national development, disability studies, education, culture, health, religion, gender, sports, tourism, ICT, theatre, media, housing and legislation. This handbook provides a body of interdisciplinary analyses suitable for the development of disability studies in southern Africa. Through drawing upon and introducing resources from several disciplines, theoretical perspectives and personal narratives from disability activists, it reflects on disability and sustainable development in southern Africa. It also addresses a clear need to bring together interdisciplinary perspectives and narratives on disability and sustainable development in ways that do not undermine disability politics advanced by disabled people across the world. The handbook further acknowledges and builds upon the huge body of literature that understands the social, cultural, educational, psychological, economic, historical and political facets of the exclusion of disabled people. The handbook covers the following broad themes: Disability inclusion, ICT and sustainable development, Access to education from early childhood development up to higher education, Disability employment, entrepreneurship and community based rehabilitation, Religion, gender and parenthood, Tourism, sports and accessibility. Compelling narratives from disability activists on societal attitudes toward disability, media advocacy, accessible housing and social exclusion. Thus this much awaited handbook provides students, academics, practitioners, development partners, policy makers and activists with an authoritative framework for critical thinking and debates that inform policy and practice in incomparable ways with the view to promoting inclusive and sustainable development.

Revisiting Environmental and Natural Resource Questions in Sub-Saharan Africa Wilson Akpan, Philani Moyo, 2017-06-23 Based on case studies in Southern Africa, West Africa and East Africa, this book revisits some of the dilemmas and paradoxes associated with the development management and utilisation of environmental resources as well as lacklustre official handling of climate change related challenges in Sub Saharan Africa On the subject of natural resource exploitation in particular the book revisits scholarly debates and specific practices around compensation benefit and burden sharing local participation and space place dynamics It highlights fundamental ambiguities in the ways the dominant discourses and policy responses have been framed and mobilised and examines epistemic and ideational incongruences that have hobbled and sometimes negated the effectiveness of otherwise well intentioned interventions On climate change the book revisits debates around the vulnerability assets nexus with regard to mitigation and adaptation as well as the intersection of climate information and livelihoods in agro based settings The contradictions gaps and limitations of climate change policies and strategies in different regions are re examined based on new data In the last few years the Environment and Natural Resources Working Group of the South African Sociological Association SASA has intensified efforts to go beyond the annual SASA Congresses and the production of journal articles in making the research agendas of its members more visible to the global scholarly and policy community This book is one result of such efforts It calls for a constant questioning of orthodoxies and the promotion of ethnographically sensitive and epistemologically nuanced scholarly and policy approaches to developmental challenges in Africa especially in relation to environmental resources and environmental change

Contentious Elections Pippa Norris, Richard W. Frank, Ferran Martínez i Coma, 2015-04-10 From Afghanistan to Zimbabwe the world has witnessed a rising tide of contentious elections ending in heated partisan debates court challenges street protests and legitimacy challenges In some cases disputes have been settled peacefully through legal appeals and electoral reforms In the worst cases however disputes have triggered bloodshed or government downfalls and military coups Contentious elections are characterized by major challenges with different degrees of severity to the legitimacy of electoral actors procedures or outcomes Despite growing concern until recently little research has studied this phenomenon The theory unfolded in this volume suggests that problems of electoral malpractice erode confidence in electoral authorities spur peaceful protests demonstrating against the outcome and in the most severe cases lead to outbreaks of conflict and violence Understanding this process is of vital concern for domestic reformers and the international community as well as attracting a growing new research agenda The editors from the Electoral Integrity Project bring together scholars considering a range of fresh evidence analyzing public opinion surveys of confidence in elections and voter turnout within specific countries as well as expert perceptions of the existence of peaceful electoral demonstrations and survey and aggregate data monitoring outbreaks of electoral violence The book provides insights invaluable for studies in democracy and democratization comparative politics comparative elections peace and conflict studies comparative sociology international development comparative public opinion political behavior political institutions and public policy

Land Tenure Challenges in Africa Horman Chitonge,Ross Harvey,2022-01-01 This book provides a significant contribution to the literature on land reform in various African contexts While the economic evidence is clear that secure property rights are a necessary condition for catalysing broad based economic development the governance process by which those rights are secured is less clear This book details the historical complexity of land rights and the importance of understanding this history in the process of trying to improve tenure security Through a combination of single country case studies comparative case studies and regional comparisons the book is unequivocal that good governance is paramount for improving the performance of land reform programmes All attempts at moving towards more formal secure tenure require congruence with informal norms beliefs and values and a set of clear systems and processes to avoid corruption and unintended negative consequences

Public Sector Reforms in Developing Countries Charles

Conteh,Ahmed Shafiqul Huque,2014-04-03 The underpinning assumption of public management in the developing world as a process of planned change is increasingly being recognized as unrealistic In reality the practice of development management is characterized by processes of mutual adjustment among individuals agencies and interest groups that can constrain behaviour as well as provide incentives for collaborative action Paradoxes inevitably emerge in policy network practice and design The ability to manage government departments and operations has become less important than the ability to navigate the complex world of interconnected policy implementation processes Public sector reform policies and programmes as a consequence are a study in the complexities of the institutional and environmental context in which these reforms are pursued Building on theory and practice this book argues that advancing the theoretical frontlines of development management research and practice can benefit from developing models based on innovation collaboration and governance The themes addressed in Public Sector Reforms in Developing Countries will enable public managers in developing countries cope in uncertain and turbulent environments as they seek optimal fits between their institutional goals and environmental contingencies Handbook of Innovation Indicators and Measurement Fred Gault,Anthony Arundel,Erika Kraemer-Mbula,2023-09-06 Providing nuanced insight into key areas of innovation studies this erudite second edition acknowledges the significance of innovation within the informal economy It contributes to the broader scholarly discourse on innovation indicators and measurement exploring the nature and rate of recent developments within the field Turning Promises Into Action ,2018 More than two years into the life of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development this report calls for dramatic advances in statistics financing and policies for gender equality as well as more determined steps towards democratic governance and accountability Based on robust data and expert analysis the report takes stock of where we stand on key aspects of gender equality globally tells us what is needed to monitor progress meaningfully and provides wideranging recommendations for change
