Everything in Its Place David B. Audretsch, 2015 Every city region and state wants to improve However while the field of strategic management exists in business schools to guide firms and organizations no such analogous field exists for places Everything in Its Place weaves together theories empirical evidence and case studies from a broad spectrum of scholarly disciplines and combines them with insights and experiences garnered from practitioners and policy makers to provide a systematic framework for guiding and informing the strategic management of places Politics and the Urban Frontier Tom Goodfellow, 2022-09-26 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Despite the rise of global technocratic ideals of city making cities around the world are not merging into indistinguishable duplicates of one another In fact as the world urbanizes urban formations remain diverse in their socioeconomic and spatial characteristics with varying potential to foster economic development and social justice In this book Tom Goodfellow argues that these differences are primarily rooted in politics and if we continue to view cities as economic and technological projects to be managed rather than terrains of political bargaining and contestation the quest for better urban futures is doomed to fail Dominant critical approaches to urban development tend to explain difference with reference to the variegated impacts of neoliberal regulatory institutions This however neglects the multiple ways in which the wider politics of capital accumulation and distribution drive divergent forms of transformation in different urban places In order to unpack the politics that shapes differential urban development this book focuses on East Africa as the global urban frontier the least urbanized but fastest urbanizing region in the world Drawing on a decade of research spanning three case study countries Ethiopia Rwanda and Uganda Politics and the Urban Frontier provides the first sustained book length comparative analysis of urban development trajectories in Eastern Africa and the political dynamics that underpin them Through a focus on infrastructure investment urban propertyscapes street level trading economies and urban political protest it offers a multi scalar historically grounded and interdisciplinary analysis of the urban transformations unfolding in the world's most dynamic crucible of urban change The Innovation Complex Sharon Zukin, 2020 New York is rapidly changing in response to a new economy but startups tech workers and venture capital are not visible unless you know where to look for them in old industrial neighborhoods on the waterfront and at events like hackathons and meetups In The Innovation Complex Sharon Zukin shows the people and places that shape the urban tech economy making cities more successful for businesses yet in some ways less livable The Oxford Handbook of Local Competitiveness David B. Audretsch, Albert N. Link, Mary Lindenstein Walshok, 2015 An analysis of what influences and shapes local competitiveness and what places can do to enhance their economic performance International Innovation Networks and Knowledge Migration Andreas Pyka, Yeşim Kuştepelı, Dominik Hartmann, 2016-07-15 Migration is conceived differently in Europe compared with countries like the US Canada or Australia International Innovation Networks and Knowledge Migration confronts traditional views on migration with modern theories of brain circulation and innovation networks showing that migration leads to mutual benefits for both the home and host countries This new volume brings together several case studies and empirical in depth analyses which are constructed from the strong migration relationship between Turkey and Germany that has existed for more than 50 years Bringing together over 20 international contributors this book highlights that knowledge migration and cultural diversity can strongly stimulate entrepreneurial activities competence acquisition and economic development of countries and regions The authors highlight the considerable scope for improvement of European migration policies in order to be better prepared to successfully process structural changes stemming from an aging society in Europe and an increasing international division of labour This volume is suitable for those who study industrial economics international economics and European economics It is also of interest to those who want to delve deeper into the Turkish German migration nexus
