House of Lords, 1845 Violence David Hansen-Miller, 2016-05-23 Civilized Violence provides a social and historical explanation for the popular appeal of cinema violence There is a significant amount of research on the effects of media violence but less work on what attracts audiences to representations of violence in the first place Drawing on historical sociology cultural studies feminist and queer theory masculinity studies and textual analysis David Hansen Miller explains how the exercise of violence has been concealed and denied by modern society at the same time that it retains considerable power over how we live our lives He demonstrates how discourses of sexuality and gender even romantic love are freighted with the micropolitics of violence Confronted with such contradictions audiences are drawn to the cinema where they can see violence graphically restored to everyday life Popular cinema holds the power to narrate and interpret social forces that have become too opaque diffuse and dynamic to otherwise comprehend Through detailed engagement with specific narratives from the last century of popular film The Cabinet of Dr Caligari The Sheik Once Upon a Time in the West Deliverance and the pervasive violence of contemporary cinema Hansen Miller investigates the manner in which representations can transform our understanding of how violence works Edward Said Debjani Ganguly, Ned Curthoys, 2015-03-25 This collection is an enterprise of discovery and critical inquiry into the legacy of one of late modernity's greatest public intellectuals Edward Said Noted contributors including Bill Ashcroft John Docker Lisa Lowe Hsu ming Teo and Patrick Wolfe address an array of intellectual political and cultural issues in their engagement with Said's oeuvre Exciting new scholarship highlights the ways in which humanities in the twenty first century can engage with Said's legacy which includes his imbrications of culture and imperialism his cosmopolitan critique of the idea of clash of civilisations and his belief that the intellectual needs to maintain intellectual performances on many fronts The individual chapters achieve a sense of balance between the two poles of Said's persona the brilliant and intimidating literary and music critic who invested deeply in an inclusive and democratic vision of humanism and the outspoken public intellectual who kept alive the truth of Palestine and the dangers of a settler colonial ethos Sheik's Rebellious Mistress Elizabeth Lennox, 2010-09-01 Electra's tumultuous childhood is marked by her father's tragic death and fueled her rebellious spirit against authority When she encounters a handsome mysterious stranger her annoying bodyguards surprisingly don t intervene Experiencing a newfound freedom and bliss with the intriguing man called Dharr Electra guestions her change in luck Dharr Rashid Abbas Sheik of Sandura finds himself captivated by Electra's beauty yet she remains resolutely defiant Despite her refusal to submit to his authority their dynamic is a blend of pleasure and frustration Both Dharr and Electra are unaware of who the other person is to each other When they finally discover the treacherous history that binds them together can their love survive A Female Poetics of Empire Julia Kuehn, 2013-10-30 Many well known male writers produced fictions about colonial spaces and discussed the advantages of realism over romance and vice versa in the art of fiction debate of the 1880s but how did female writers contribute to colonial fiction This volume links fictional non fictional and pictorial representations of a colonial otherness with the late nineteenth century artistic concerns about representational conventions and possibilities. The author explores these texts and images through the postcolonial framework of exoticism arguing that the epistemological dilemma of a self encountering an other results in the interrelated predicament to find poetic modalities mimetic realistic and documentary on the one hand romantic fantastic and picturesque on the other that befit an exotic representation Thus women writers did not only participate in the making of colonial fictions but also in the late nineteenth century artistic debate about the nature of fiction This book maps the epistemological concerns of exoticism and of difference self and other home and away familiarity and strangeness onto the representational modes of realism and romance The author focuses exclusively on female novelists travel writers and painters of the turn of the century exotic and especially on neglected authors of academically under researched genres such as the bestselling novel and the travelogue Congressional Record United States.
