FROG DISSECTION

Student Instructions

Purpose:

To investigate the internal and external structures of a frog and relate the structure of the frog to that of other vertebrates.

Materials:

- Dissecting tray
- Probe
- Scissors
- Forceps
- Frog
- Dissecting pins

PART ONE: External Structure

Carefully observe the frog, as your homework analysis questions will be based on what you saw during the dissection.

1. Take a look at both the fore (front) and hind legs. Compare their length and structure. Try to stretch out the hind legs to see their full length.
2. Observe the eyes of your frog. The eyes are located on the top of the frog's head, as opposed to on the front (like yours) or on the sides (like a fish).
3. Notice the membrane on the eyes. Refer to your frog sandwich to identify the name of this protective feature.
4. Notice the difference in color between the dorsal (top) and ventral (belly) sides of the frog. Think about how this difference may help the frog survive in its natural environment.
5. Open your frog sandwich to the digestive system/internal cavity view.
6. Open the frog's mouth. Locate the vomerine teeth just behind and between the internal nostrils. Feel the vomerine teeth by running one of your fingers over them.
