University Rankings Jung Cheol Shin,Robert K. Toutkoushian,Ulrich Teichler,2011-06-06 This ground breaking and exhaustive analysis of university ranking surveys scrutinizes their theoretical bases methodological issues societal impact and policy implications providing readers with a deep understanding of these controversial comparators The authors propose that university rankings are misused by policymakers and institutional leaders alike They assert that these interested parties overlook the highly problematic internal logic of ranking methodologies even as they obsess over the surveys assessment of their status The result is that institutions suffer from short termism realigning their resources to maximize their relative rankings While rankings are widely used in policy and academic discussions this is the first book to explore the theoretical and methodological issues of ranking itself It is a welcome contribution to an often highly charged debate Far from showing how to manipulate the system this collection of work by key researchers aims to enlighten interested parties Sheffield , Benchmarking and Threshold Standards in Higher Education Michael Armstrong,Sally Brown,Helen Smith,2014-05-12 The specification of standards in higher education has long been the subject of international debate This text covers the rationales operational issues and perspectives on benchmarking and standards from international viewpoints New Directions in Higher Education R. Nata,2005 Higher education is a complex package of issues which never seems to leave the limelight The primary wedge issues are tuition cost access accountability financial aid government funding sports and their place within higher education academic results societal gains as a whole in terms of international competition and continuing education This new book examines new directions in this ever changing vital and controversial field which has a profound effect on society Images of Intellectual Capital Jan Fazlagić,2017-01-06 Intellectual capital IC became a hot topic in economic discussion at the turn of this century believed to offer new principles which could help build the new intangible economy after the collapse of the Soviet Union and the Internet revolution The early enthusiasm of the 2000s has slightly subsided today however though many of the underlying assumptions relating to the importance of intangible assets are still valid As such it is much more appropriate today to discuss issues related to IC as images of intellectual capital rather than rules Intellectual capital explains a plethora of phenomena in today s business organisations and this book takes a post modern approach to the issue of IC and offers a selection of different perspectives They include analyses of intellectual capital in education business and in the public sector The chapters collected here are authored by university professors business practitioners and students and investigate such issues as the relative importance of intellectual capital components to tangible components of a company s value the impact of ICT on IC the measurement methods for IC and different forms of communication for the disclosure of IC

Multidimensional Ranking

Frans A. van Vught,Frank Ziegele,2012-02-22 During the last decades ranking has become one of the most controversial issues in higher education and research It is widely recognized now that although some of the current rankings can be severely criticized they seem to be here to stay In addition rankings appear to have a great impact on decision makers at all levels of higher education and research systems worldwide including in universities Rankings reflect a growing international competition among universities for talent and resources at the same time they reinforce competition by their very results Yet major concerns remain as to the rankings methodological underpinnings and to their various impacts This new book presents a comprehensive overview of the current state of the art of ranking in higher education and research and introduces a completely new approach called multidimensional ranking In part 1 rankings are discussed in the broader context of quality assurance and transparency in higher education and research In addition the many current ranking methodologies are analyzed and critized and their impacts are explored In part 2 a new approach to ranking is introduced based on the basic idea that higher education and research institutions have different profiles and missions and that the performances of these institutions should reflect these differences This multidimensional approach is operationalized in a new multidimensional and user driven ranking tool called U Multirank U Multirank is the outcome of a pilot project sponsored by the European Commission in which the new ranking instrument was designed and tested at a global scale
