The Arabs at War in Afghanistan Mustafa Hamid, Leah Farrall, 2015-04-16 A former senior mujahidin figure and an ex counter terrorism analyst cooperating to write a book on the history and legacy of Arab Afghan fighters in Afghanistan is a remarkable and improbable undertaking Yet this is what Mustafa Hamid aka Abu Walid al Masri and Leah Farrall have achieved with the publication of their ground breaking work The result of thousands of hours of discussions over several years The Arabs at War in Afghanistan offers significant new insights into the history of many of today s militant Salafi groups and movements By revealing the real origins of the Taliban and al Qaeda and the jostling among the various jihadi groups this account not only challenges conventional wisdom but also raises uncomfortable questions as to how events from this important period have been so badly misconstrued

Seeing Whiteness Robin DiAngelo, 1900 Long before the mainstream success of the 2018 book White Fragility Why It s So Hard For White People To Talk About Racism Robin DiAngelo was breaking with white solidarity and writing speaking and teaching on the relationship among white supremacy structural racism and white identity In this volume DiAngelo has gathered a selection of her groundbreaking works leading up to White Fragility Consistently speaking as a white person to her fellow white people she seamlessly blends the personal with the political The result is an engaging and provocative analysis of the sociopolitical forces of race that shape our lives Taking up familiar ideologies such as individualism and meritocracy she breaks down how these concepts function to protect and obscure structural racism Collectively these essays show how racism infuses our society and its institutions it is a system that goes well beyond individual intentions or conscious acts of meanness By changing the question from if we are part of systemic racism to how each of us play a part DiAngelo s body of work provides a transformative framework for white identity and antiracist action

Dialogues on Climate Justice Stephen M. Gardiner, Arthur Obst, 2022-09-26 Written both for general readers and college students Dialogues on Climate Justice provides an engaging philosophical introduction to climate justice and should be of interest to anyone wanting to think seriously about the climate crisis The story follows the life and conversations of Hope a fictional protagonist whose life is shaped by a terrifyingly real problem climate change From the election of Donald Trump in 2016 until the 2060s the book documents Hope's discussions with a diverse cast of characters As she ages her conversations move from establishing the nature of the problem to engaging with climate skepticism to exploring her own climate responsibilities through managing contentious international negotiations to considering big technological fixes and finally as an older woman to reflecting with her granddaughter on what one generation owes another Following a philosophical tradition established by Plato more than two thousand years ago these dialogues are not only philosophically substantive and carefully argued but also distinctly human The differing perspectives on display mirror those involved in real world climate dialogues going on today

Key Features Written in an engaging dialogue form which includes characterization clear exchanges of ideas and a compelling story arc Clearly organized to allow readers both in depth consideration and rapid overviews of various topics Memorable examples that enable and encourage discussion inside and outside the classroom An Introduction to the book aimed at instructors which includes helpful instructions for teaching the book and engaging student assignments
