The book covers the entire spectrum of learning required by a technical professional to effectively communicate the technicalities of his subject to other technocrats or to a non technical person at their proper levels. It is unique inasmuch as it provides some thoughtful pedagogical tools that help the students attain proficiency in all the modes of communication. Key Features Marginalia which are spread throughout the book to clarify and highlight the key points Tech Talk passages which throw light on the latest advancements in communication technology and their innovative use Application based Exercise which encourages the readers to apply the concepts learnt to real life situation Language based Exercise Grammar feel or experience the concepts and theories learnt and thereby gain hands on experience Teens' Guide to College & Career Planning 11th Edition Peterson's, 2012-04-30 Peterson's Teens Guide to College helpful checklists and worksheets to help keep you organized essential information to help you decide if the military is right for you expert financial aid advice and information on scholarships grants athletic awards loans work study and more Fun graphics along with the informative easy to read chapters make this the perfect guide for the teen on the go

Technical Communication and the World Wide Web Carol Lipson, Michael Day, 2005-05-06 Over the past decade the World Wide Web has dramatically changed the face of technical communication but the teaching of writing has thus far altered very little to accommodate this rapidly changing context. Technical Communication and the World Wide Web offers substantial and broadly applicable strategies for teaching global communication issues affecting writing for the World Wide Web. Editors Carol Lipson and Michael Day have brought together an exceptional group of experienced and well known teacher scholars to develop this unique volume addressing technical communication education. The chapters here focus specifically on curriculum issues and the teaching of technical writing for the World Wide Web contributing a blend of theory and practice in proposing changes in curriculum and pedagogy. Contributors offer classroom examples that teachers at all levels of experience can adapt for their own classes. The volume provides comprehensive coverage of the technical communication curriculum from the two year level to the graduate level from service courses to degree programs This volume is an important and indispensable resource for technical writing educators and it will serve as an essential reference for curriculum and pedagogy development in technical communication programs

Essays on Classical Rhetoric and Modern Discourse Robert J. Connors, Lisa S. Ede, Andrea A. Lunsford, 1984 Eighteen essays by leading scholars in English speech communication education and philosophy explore the vitality of the classical rhetorical tradition and its influence on both contemporary discourse studies and the teaching of writing Some of the essays investigate the rhetorical and historical issues Others show the bearing of classical rhetoric on contemporary problems in composition thus blending theory and practice Common to the varied approaches and viewpoints expressed in this volume is one central theme the 20th century revival of rhetoric entails a recovery of the classical tradition with its marriage of a rich and fully articulated theory with an equally efficacious practice A preface demonstrates the contribution of Edward P J Corbett to the 20th century revival and a last chapter includes a bibliography of his works

Handbook of Cultural Intelligence Soon Ang, Linn Van Dyne, 2015-01-28 Cultural intelligence is defined as an individual's ability to function effectively in situations characterized by cultural diversity With contributions from eminent scholars worldwide the Handbook of Cultural Intelligence is a state of the science summary of the body of knowledge about cultural intelligence and its relevance for managing diversity both within and across cultures Because cultural intelligence capabilities can be enhanced through education and experience this handbook emphasizes individual capabilities specific characteristics that allow people to function effectively in culturally diverse settings rather than the approach used by more traditional books of describing and comparing cultures based on national cultural norms beliefs habits and practices The Handbook covers conceptual and definitional issues assessment approaches and application of cultural intelligence in the domains of international and cross cultural management as well as management of domestic activity It is an invaluable resource that will stimulate and guide future research on this important topic and its application across a broad range of disciplines including management organizational behavior industrial and organizational psychology intercultural communication and more Discourse Description William C. Mann, Sandra A. Thompson, 1992-01-01

Discourse Description presents in one convenient volume a variety of approaches to text description that have been proposed in the linguistic literature in the last decade or so The book is organized to make it easy to understand and compare the various approaches Since all of the researchers are analyzing the same text their differences are readily seen The text they analyze is a letter mailed in bulk by a Washington based lobbying organization which is supported by contributions from donors Far from simply informing the readers the letter seeks to appeal to them on many levels intellectual emotional and financial It is a fascinating study in how texts do their work Discourse Description is expected to serve both as a research document and as a case textbook for graduate and undergraduate courses in discourse and text analysis as well as a resource for text analysts Intercultural Alternatives Maribel Blasco, Jan Gustafsson, 2004 This book offers a selection of alternative approaches to the question of interculturality written from a range of theoretical perspectives including hermeneutics phenomenology semiotics dialogic philosophy and social constructivism It is intended as a source of critical ways of thinking and theorising about interculturality rather than as a quick fix guide to getting around problems that can arise in intercultural encounters Handbook of Research on E-Learning Methodologies for Language Acquisition de Cássia Veiga

Marriott, Rita, Lupion Torres, Patricia, 2008-07-31 This book discusses the complete range of contemporary research topics such as computer modeling geometry geoprocessing and geographic information systems Provided by publisher

Designing Globally Networked Learning Environments , 2008-01-01 Faculty administrators and others in higher education face growing pressures to position their institutions programs and courses in global markets and to prepare students for global work and citizenship These pressures raise urgent questions What might higher education look like in a globally networked world Do traditional industrial models of learning suffice or what new visions for learning are emerging What does it take to implement and maintain these visions To address these questions Designing Globally Networked Learning Environments brings together 25 educators from four continents who share their richly diverse visions for teaching and learning in a globally networked world What unites these visions is that they break with traditional models of repackaging traditional institutionally bounded courses for online delivery in global markets Instead these educators build robust partnerships to design globally networked learning environments that connect students with peers instructors and communities across traditional institutional national and other boundaries to facilitate the kind of cross boundary knowledge making that students as professionals and citizens will need to participate in the shaping of an emerging global order and to address the most pressing global problems we face The book offers these visions as opportunities for faculty program directors administrators international program experts instructional designers faculty development experts and others in higher education to work together to deliberate develop and shape inspiring visions for globally networked learning and to
