

Life on Earth 11 Biology Assignment

Question 1:

Lightning Ridge Fossil site

Fossil 1:

Steropodon Galmani (opalised jaw bone)

An opalised jaw of Steropodon was found near the lightning ridge opal centre in Lightning Ridge, New South Wales, as shown on the map above. The fossil dated to 110 million years ago i.e. the early Cretaceous and is now stored in the Australian museum.

Description- The jaw has three molar teeth. A couple of other partial jaws have also been found (very different teeth to platypus these days). Steropodon was named in 1985 and is regarded as one of Australia's most important fossil discoveries as it's the oldest mammal fossil that has been found in Australia. It was the first known mammal from the Mesozoic in Australia. "It may have been the largest mammal from the Cretaceous period anywhere in the world, although it is less than twice the size of the modern platypus" (Divilian, 2015).

Steropodon Opalised Jaw

Link to evolution- The lightning ridge fossil of the Steropodon demonstrates that platypus ancestors were adapting differently to the changing environment from a Gondwanan landscape to an Australian one whereby it would have had to adapt differently from its divergent ancestors due to the geographical barrier creating isolated genetic ring pools.

,2001-04 The Times Index ,2008 Indexes the Times and its supplements Alone but Not Lonely Louis Friedman,2023-09-19 Humans have always been fascinated by the possibility of extraterrestrial life often wondering if we are alone in the universe Drawing on nearly fifty years as a leader in planetary exploration Louis Friedman brings into focus the subject of extraterrestrial life separating knowledge from conjecture fact from fiction to draw scientific and technical conclusions that answer this enduring question Friedman argues that intelligent life is probably rare in the universe maybe even uniquely on Earth but that simple life is likely abundant on millions or billions of planets waiting now to be discovered He asserts that studying and searching for extraterrestrial life cannot be done by interstellar probes due to the vastness of space and the comparative brevity of human lifespans but it can be done remotely by a new technique involving the solar gravity lens that can magnify exoplanets by tens of billions This technique will allow humankind to explore exoplanets and open up an exciting new field of comparative astrobiology Wide ranging in scope this book discusses the history of searching for extraterrestrial life the scientific evidence thereof and finally his own conclusions on what's next Included in the book are three appendices an explanation of interstellar messaging a reprint of a debate between Carl Sagan and Ernst Mayr on extraterrestrial intelligence and an opinion essay on the search for extraterrestrial intelligence

Neoliberalism and Young Adult Fiction Sean P. Connors, Roberta Seelinger Trites, 2025-03-17 In the twenty first century the influence of neoliberalism the belief that society benefits when both individuals and corporations are free to maximize their talents in the service of responding to social needs and problems resonates through all domains of human life And yet little critical study has been given to the reproduction of a neoliberal social order in YA literature Neoliberalism and Young Adult Fiction Exceptionalism Exploitation and Erasure examines how some YA literature naturalizes neoliberalism in positioning teenagers as self enclosed competitive individuals At the same time however the authors also examine other YA novels as potential sites of resistance that acknowledge teenagers agency to reject neoliberalism's destructive impulses and to work for social justice and equality through collective action With that in mind the authors of Neoliberalism and Young Adult Fiction analyze such concepts as how the exceptionality of specific characters who embody neoliberal ideals leads to self enclosed individualism and how environmental exploitation and consumerism lead to destructive effects The book progresses to an in depth examination of how racism undergirds US neoliberalism and environmental exploitation From scrutinizing racism and the rejection of neoliberalism inherent in the antiracism movement the study turns to an examination of gender specifically focusing on the relationship between sexism exploitation and embodied rejections of patriarchal thinking Indeed erasure is implicated in racism sexism and all forms of discrimination that are borne of exploitation Finally youth activism with its rejection of neoliberal ideologies leads to a culminating chapter about how global youth link YA literature to their protest movements
