Frances Burney - The Wanderer, Or Female Difficulties Frances Burney,2016-12-29 Frances Burney was born on June 13th 1752 in Lynn Regis now King s Lynn By the age of 8 Frances had still not learned the alphabet and couldn t read She now began a period of self education which included devouring the family library and to begin her own scribbles these journal writings would document her life and cover the next 72 years Her journal writing was accepted but writing novels

was frowned upon by her family and friends. Feeling that she had been improper, she burnt her first manuscript The History of Caroline Evelyn, which she had written in secret. It was only in 1778 with the anonymous publication of Evelina that her talents were available to the wider world. She was now a published and admired author. Despite this success and that of her second novel Cecilia in 1785, Frances travelled to the court of King George III and Queen Charlotte and was offered the post of Keeper of the Robes. Frances hesitated. She had no wish to be separated from her family nor to anything that would restrict her time in writing. But unmarried at 34, she felt obliged to accept and thought that improved social status and income might allow her greater freedom to write. The years at Court were fruitful but took a toll on her health, writing, and relationships, and in 1790 she prevailed upon her father to request her release from service. He was successful. The ideals of the French Revolution had brought support from many English literates for the ideals of equality and social justice. Frances quickly became attached to General Alexandre D'Arblay, an artillery officer who had fled to England. In spite of the objections of her father, they were married on July 28th 1793. On December 18th 1794, Frances gave birth to their only child, a son, Alexander. Frances's third novel Camilla in 1796 earned her 2000 and was enough for them to build a house in Westhumble, Camilla Cottage. In 1801, D'Arblay was offered service with the government of Napoleon in France, and in 1802, Frances and her son followed him to Paris, where they expected to remain for a year. The outbreak of the war between France and England meant their stay extended for ten years. In August 1810, Frances developed breast cancer and underwent a mastectomy performed by 7 men in black. Frances was later able to write about the operation in detail, being conscious through most of it, anaesthetics not yet being in use. With the death of D'Arblay in 1818 of cancer, Frances moved to London to be near her son. Tragically, he died in 1837. Frances in her last years was, by now retired, but entertained many visits from younger members of the Burney family who gathered to listen to her fascinating accounts and her talents for imitating the people she described. Frances Burney died on January 6th 1840.
