A series is a sum of the terms of a sequence. There are two types of series: finite and infinite. A finite series has a fixed number of terms, while an infinite series has an unlimited number of terms.

There are several types of series that you might encounter in pre-calculus. An arithmetic series is a series in which the terms have a constant difference between them. A geometric series is a series in which the terms have a constant ratio between them. An infinite geometric series is a geometric series with an unlimited number of terms.

In pre-calculus, you will also learn about the sum of an infinite series. To find the sum of an infinite series, you can use the formula:

$$\text{Sum} = a_1 / (1 - r)$$

where a_1 is the first term of the series, and r is the common ratio between the terms.
