

FINAL PROJECT COMPLETION REPORT

I. BASIC DATA

Organization Name: BirdLife International

Project Title: Building a national constituency for bird and biodiversity conservation in Madagascar

Date of Report: December 2003

II. OPENING REMARKS

Provide any opening remarks that may assist in the review of this report.

Acronyms or special terms:

- |       |   |
|-------|---|
| BIMP  | BirdLife International Madagascar Programme – a national programme reporting to the BirdLife International secretariat (not an autonomous NGO, and therefore not a BirdLife Partner in the strict sense used by BirdLife). “BirdLife International xxx Programme” has been approved as the standard branding for country programmes, and so BIMP replaces BMP used in the proposal.                       |
| Asity | Malagasy bird conservation NGO, established in 1996, which had applied to be admitted to the BirdLife Partnership. Asity was identified as the most promising NGO to form the basis of the eventual BirdLife Partner, and therefore the project worked with Asity as well as BIMP, with a view to merging the two at some future point. Asity is the “selected Malagasy NGO” referred to in the proposal. |
| IBA   | Important Bird Area (a site identified as of global conservation importance for birds, based on standard criteria)  |

An objective of the project was to create the nucleus of a national organization that could ultimately (but not in the lifetime of the project) be admitted to the BirdLife network, integrating the strengths of the staff or organizations already present into a single organization, without losing any. A short explanation of how this process took place follows, as it is integral to understanding the whole report; key players are BIMP and Asity (defined above).

The project quickly confirmed Asity's suitability to be involved in further developments. In March 2003, Asity's general assembly approved in principle a proposal from its president to collaborate with BIMP, without change in institutional identity, for two years, as a test for a closer relationship later on. Modes of operation, responsibilities and project priorities for this collaboration were planned in a workshop in June 2003, attended by most Asity members and all BIMP staff, along with other stakeholder and the press at an opening session. A summary of the workshop is given in section VII (Additional comments and recommendations). This provided the necessary mandate for further activity and planning to include Asity alongside BIMP. Accordingly, from then on, most activities were carried out by Asity and BIMP jointly (for example, attendance at BirdLife's Africa Partnership meeting in September 2003), and this will continue.
