Multicampus University Systems Ishmael I. Munene, 2014-08-27 In the face of increasing social demand and cutbacks in state budgetary support universities in African countries are now turning towards a multicampus system strategy As African governments have adopted neoliberal education policies that place premium on entrepreneurialism profit making privatization and markets as drivers of university development a reshaping of the academic work and organizational framework have taken place However little is known about the impact of this paradigm shift on access quality and governance in higher education This book fills the void in research and academic knowledge about the impact of the emerging university configurations in Africa It analyzes the paradox surrounding the performance of multicampus university systems as avenues of broadening university access but whose structural success may be qualitatively contested This book offers a refreshing examination of the African multicampus university system from both an African and global perspective It makes use of empirical data from Kenya collected during extensive fieldwork along with substantive library and documentary resources on the rest of the continents to fortify arguments and demonstrate important conclusions This allows for a comparative analysis of policies and strategies used in the establishment of campuses both within and beyond national boundaries in the continent and will be a welcome contribution to the existing repertoire on African universities Diversity in African languages Doris L. Payne, Sara Pacchiarotti, Mokaya Bosire, 2016-12-31 Diversity in African Languages contains a selection of revised papers from the 46th Annual Conference on African Linguistics held at the University of Oregon Most chapters focus on single languages addressing diverse aspects of their phonology morphology semantics syntax information structure or historical development These chapters represent nine different genera Mande Gur Kwa Edoid Bantu Nilotic Gumuzic Cushitic and Omotic Other chapters investigate a mix of languages and families moving from typological issues to sociolinguistic and inter ethnic factors that affect language and accent switching Some chapters are primarily descriptive while others push forward the theoretical understanding of tone semantic problems discourse related structures and other linguistic systems The papers on Bantu languages reflect something of the internal richness and continued fascination of the family for linguists as well as maturation of research on the family The distribution of other papers highlights the need for intensified research into all the language families of Africa including basic documentation in order to comprehend linguistic diversities and convergences across the continent In this regard the chapter on Daats i in Gumuzic stands out as the first ever published article on this hitherto unknown and endangered language found in the Ethiopian Sudanese border lands

Morality at the Margins Sarah Hillewaert, 2019-11-05 This book considers the day to day lives of young Muslims on Kenya's island of Lamu who live simultaneously on the edge and in the center At the margins of the national and international economy and of Western notions of modernity Lamu's inhabitants nevertheless find themselves the focus of campaigns against Islamic radicalization and of Western touristic imaginations of the untouched and secluded What does it mean to be young modern and Muslim here How are these denominators imagined and enacted in daily encounters Documenting the everyday lives of Lamu youth this ethnography explores how young people negotiate cultural religious political and economic expectations through nuanced deployments of language dress and bodily comportment Hillewaert shows how seemingly mundane practices how young people greet others how they walk dress and talk can become tactics in the negotiation of moral personhood Morality at the Margins traces the shifting meanings and potential ambiguities of such everyday signs and the dangers of their misconstrual By examining the uncertainties that underwrite projects of self fashioning the book highlights how shifting and scalable discourses of tradition modernity secularization nationalism and religious piety inform changing notions of moral subjectivity In elaborating everyday practices of Islamic pluralism the book shows the ways in which Muslim societies critically engage with change while sustaining a sense of integrity and morality

Making Ancient Cities Andrew T. Creekmore, III, Kevin D. Fisher, 2014-04-28 This volume investigates how the structure and use of space developed and changed in cities and examines the role of different societal groups in shaping urbanism Culturally and chronologically diverse case studies provide a basis to examine recent theoretical and methodological shifts in the archaeology of ancient cities The book's primary goal is to examine how ancient cities were made by the people who lived in them The authors argue that there is a mutually constituting relationship between urban form and the actions and interactions of a plurality of individuals groups and institutions each with their own motivations and identities Space is therefore socially produced as these agents operate in multiple spheres
