Ancient Egyptian and Ancient Near Eastern Palaces Manfred Bietak,Silvia Prell,2018 This collection of studies on palaces in Ancient Egypt is the result of a conference organised by the Austrian Academy of Sciences the University of Wurzburg and the Egypt Exploration Society from 12th to 14th of June 2013 in London The result is a compilation of information archaeological and textual one can resort to in order to develop strategies to understand architectural and functional variations and recognise schemes of building canons for palaces in Ancient Egypt In addition the understanding of Ancient Egyptian palaces is amplified with specialised studies regarding architectural and administrative terminology The combined evidence shows that there was indeed a variability in function in architecture and in the physical situation of palaces in Ancient Egypt Besides a common space program such as the succession of courtyard portico vestibule throne room and the intimate part of the palace one may observe a variability of the number of aisles or of columns present as well as in the thickness of walls This fact points to hierarchical rules concerning the importance of the building As the architecture is often preserved only in its foundations it is important to learn what kind of walls were load bearing what the size of division walls is and which kind of walls once carried columns All these first observations have to undergo an evaluation process before one can think of discovering a building canon A general introducing section is followed by contributions covering Ancient Egyptian palaces from Predynastic times until the New Kingdom More contributions on the subject will follow in the second volume which will deal mainly with Ancient Near Eastern Palaces as outcome of a palace workshop at the 10th ICAANE held in 2016 in Vienna Together these two volumes will contribute to a better understanding of the architectural canon and diversity of palaces in Ancient Egypt and the difference in concept to their Ancient Oriental counterparts ce from SAV1 North underlines the important role Sai plays in understanding settlement patterns in New Kingdom Nubia

Prophecy and Its Cultic Dimensions Lena-Sofia Tiemeyer, 2019-01-21 This collection of eight essays deals with a wide range of historical literary and methodological issues First what were the links between the cultic and the prophetic personnel Did prophets have ritual cultic functions in temples Did prophetic actions and or utterances play a role in the performance of the cult What were the ritual aspects of divinations Second how do literary texts describe the interaction between prophecy and cult Third how can various theories e g religious theory performance theory enable us to reach a better understanding of the interplay between divination and cultic ritual in ancient Israel and the wider ancient Near East Marian Broida explores the ritual elements as described in the biblical accounts of intercession Lester Grabbe revisits the important question of whether cultic prophecy existed in the Jerusalem temple in ancient Israel Anja Klein maintains that while Psalms 81 and 95 may indirectly testify to a form of cultic prophecy they do not themselves constitute cultic prophecy Jonathan St kl discusses the notion of triggering prophecy and suggests that enquiring of Yhwh may in itself be understood as a kind of ritualised behaviour John Hilber considers the performance of the rituals that accompanied prophetic affirmation of victory in the Egyptian cult Martti Nissinen looks more broadly at the question whether prophets in the ancient world functioned as ritual performers Lena Sofia Tiemeyer investigates the priests mediating and predictive functions as depicted in the Deuteronomistic History Alex Jassen argues that Jews in the Second Temple Period perceived the priests and the temple to be a new locus of prophetic activity
