Miracle Promises Roger Wayne, 2004-05 Miracle Promises is an inspirational book showing in practical real life situations how God changes believers lives by his wonderful personal promises today The Memory of Pain Camila Loew, 2011 In this book Camila Loew analyzes four women s testimonial literary writings on the Holocaust to examine and question some of the tenets of the fields of Holocaust studies gender studies and testimony Through a close reading of the works of Charlotte Delbo Margarete Buber Neumann Ruth Kluger and Marguerite Duras Loew foregrounds these authors search for a written form to engage with their experiences of the extreme Although each chapter contains its individual focus and features the book possesses a unity in intention concerns and consequences In the theoretical introduction that unites the four chapters Loew eschews essentialism and revises the emergence of the field of Women and Holocaust studies from the early 1980s on and signals some of its shortcomings In response and in accordance with a recent turn in various disciplines of the Humanities Loew highlights the ethical dimension of testimony and its responsible commitment to the other In dealing with the texts as literary testimonies a complex genre between literature and history testimony is freed from the obligation to respond to the requirements of factual truth and becomes a privileged form to voice the traumatic event and to symbolically explore the role of excess The Promise of Happiness Sara Ahmed, 2010-04-06 This provocative cultural critique of the imperative to be happy draws on the work of feminist black and queer critics showing how happiness is used to justify social oppression The Promise of Youth Barbara Stoddard Burks, Dortha Williams Jensen, Lewis Madison Terman, 1930 A Stanford University Press classic Tully's Three Books of Offices, Translated Into English; with Notes Explaining the Method and Meaning of the Author. Best, 2017-03-29 Broken Promise by Edwin M Best These few lines of stanza were written over a few years After having to move so many times and seeing the handwritten words start to fade off the pages they were written on author Edwin M Best decided to type them up before they completely disappeared After typing up a few it only made sense to share it with the world The funny thing is life is like poetry written on a few pages unless you take care of those pages the writing will eventually fade away We all have been through some rough relationships We all have tried to do things to impress the opposite sex We all have lost something whether it s a relationship a loved one or even time This book is about all those things and the Broken Promises to one another and even to ourselves A Literal Translation of the Three Books "De Officiis" of Marcus Tullius Cicero Marcus Tullius Cicero,1839 Why Love Hurts Eva Illouz,2013-05-20 Few of us have been spared the agonies of intimate relationships They come in many shapes loving a man or a woman who will not commit to us being heartbroken when we re abandoned by a lover engaging in Sisyphean internet searches coming back lonely from bars parties or blind dates feeling bored in a relationship that is so much less than we had envisaged these are only some of the ways in which the search for love is a difficult and often painful experience Despite the widespread and almost collective character of these experiences our culture insists they are the result of faulty or insufficiently mature psyches For many the Freudian idea that the family designs the pattern of an individual s erotic career has been the main explanation for why and how we fail to find or sustain love Psychoanalysis and popular psychology have succeeded spectacularly in convincing us that individuals bear responsibility for the misery of their romantic and erotic lives The purpose of this book is to change our way of thinking about what is wrong in modern relationships The problem is not dysfunctional childhoods or insufficiently self aware psyches but rather the institutional forces shaping how we love The argument of this book is that the modern romantic experience is shaped by a fundamental transformation in the ecology and architecture of romantic choice The samples from which men and women choose a partner the modes of evaluating prospective partners the very importance of choice and autonomy and what people imagine to be the spectrum of their choices all these aspects of choice have transformed the very core of the will how we want a partner the sense of worth bestowed by relationships and the organization of desire This book does to love what Marx did to commodities it shows that it is shaped by social relations and institutions and that it circulates in a marketplace of unequal actors Of the Law of Nature and Nations.
