Management Umeshwar Dayal, Johann Eder, Jana Koehler, Hajo A. Reijers, 2009-08-27 The BPM Business Process Management Conference series has the ambition to be the premier forum for researchers in the area of process aware information systems. It has a record for attracting contributions in innovative research of the highest quality related to all aspects of business process management including theory, frameworks, methods, techniques, architectures and empirical findings. BPM 2009 was the 7th instantiation of this series. It took place in Ulm, Germany, September 8-10, 2009, organized by the Institute of Databases and Information Systems of the University of Ulm. This volume contains 17 contributed research papers and two contributed industrial papers selected from 116 submissions from 31 countries. The thorough reviewing process, in which each paper was reviewed by three to five Program Committee members, was extremely competitive as the acceptance rate of 16% indicates. In addition to the contributed papers, these proceedings contain two papers and an outline documenting the invited keynote talks. Furthermore, a report is included on the collaboration structure in BPM research derived from an analysis of papers accepted for all past BPM conferences. In conjunction with the main conference, nine international workshops took place the day before the conference. These workshops fostered the exchange of fresh ideas and experiences between active BPM researchers and stimulated discussions on new and emerging issues in line with the conference topics. The proceedings, with the papers of all workshops, will be published in a separate volume of Springer's Lecture Notes in Business Information Processing series.

Content Strategy at Work Margot Bloomstein, 2012-02-17 Content is king and the new kingmaker and your message needs to align with your model and metrics and other mumbo jumbo, right? Whether you're sloggng through theory or buzzwords, there's no denying content strategy is coming of age. But what's in it for you? And if you're not a content strategist, why should you care? Because even if content strategy isn't your job, content's probably your problem and probably more than you think. You or your business has a message you want to deliver, right? You can deliver that message through various channels and content types, from Tweets to testimonials and photo galleries galore, and your audience has just as many ways of engaging with it. So many ways, so much content, so where's the problem? That is the problem. And you can measure it in time, creativity, money lost, opportunity and the sobs you hear equally from creative directors, project managers and search engine marketing specialists. The solution is content strategy and this book offers real world examples and approaches you can adopt, no matter your role on the team. Put content strategy to work for you by gathering this book into your little hands and gobbling up never before seen case studies from teams at Johns Hopkins Medicine, MINI, Icebreaker and more. Content Strategy at Work is a book for designers, information architects, copywriters, project managers and anyone who works with visual or verbal content. It discusses how you can communicate and forge a plan that will enable you, your company or your client get that message across and foster better user experiences. Presents a content strategy framework and ways to implement in both in-house marketing departments and consultancies. Includes case studies, interviews and lessons learned from retail, apparel, network television, business, automotive, non-profit and higher-ed brands. Details practical sales
